General Wu In Control Of Peking; Chang's Troops Flee In Disorder

TEN KILLED BY TORNADO

AUSTIN, TEXAS, May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The death toll today of Ben Roberts, negro, brought to ten the list of fatalities in the tornado which late yesterday struck the west side of Austin and swept down to Oakhill, eight miles southwest, causing property damage estimated at $400,000.

Seven of the deaths occurred at Oakhill and Manchaca, eight miles south.

About forty persons are known to have been injured in various localities touched by the twister. Most of the injured are being cared for in hospitals and homes here.

The chief property damaged was done to the plant of the Woodward Manufacturing Company at Poughkeepsie and St. Edwards College, the deaf, dumb and blind institute for negroes, and residences and buildings in the south and southwest parts of Austin. The central portion of Austin was unharmed.

TWO PAY PENALTY

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—George Bush, 41, of Youngstown, and John Vaiden, 26, of Columbus, negro murderers, were electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary early today. Bush was pronounced dead at 12:13 a. m., central standard time, by Prison Physician W. A. Whitman, and Vaiden at 12:22 a. m. Both men met death without noticeable fear. Bush entered the death chamber with a smile on his face. He walked alone. Turning to Major Walter Collins, of the Volunteer Prison League, he said: "Aren't you proud of me?" Later Major Collins said Bush's remark probably was intended as an expression of his faith in the Almighty, which gave him courage to meet death without fear.

Three applications of current were necessary before Bush was pronounced dead. Between the first and second and third applications, Dr. Whitman unclamped the electrodes fastened to Bush's head and right leg and applied water to the electrodes. This is said to allow the current to pass through the body more freely.

Vaiden smiled faintly as he came through the "green door" and without uttering a word sat down in the chair. The black mask and the electrodes were adjusted and two minutes later he was pronounced dead.

Both men shortly before their executions, remonstrated the fact that they were not converted before they entered the penitentiary, declaring that would have decreed otherwise had such been the case.

Bush was convicted of murdering Louis Lee, another Youngstown negro, after Lee had caused Bush's arrest on a theft charge involving $20. Vaiden clubbed Charles D. Baker, an insurance collector, to death after he had called Baker to his home to pay an insurance premium.

Left: Rescuers showing a boat across the levee to go to the aid of families isolated by the flood who retreated to high ground as the waters rose. Right: A deer, which, exhausted by a long run and swim to escape the flood, permitted a photographer to come within 10 feet. A herd of 250 deer, terror-stricken, dashed through the main street of Providence, La., fleeing from the flood.

BRILLIANT FIGHTING OF CHRISTIAN GENERAL TURNS TIDE OF BATTLE

PEKING, May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—General Wu Pei-Fu was in control of Peking at noon today and General Chang Tso-Lin, whose forces he routed yesterday in a fierce battle south of the capital, was reported fleeing to Mukden. Chang's army is retreating in disorder toward Tientsin.

Observers here believe Chang's sudden collapse has ended the hostilities.

Heavy Casualties In Fighting

PEKING, May 4.—(By the Associated Press)—With 50,000 troops, General Wu Pei-Fu encircled Chang Tso-Lin's forces outside Peking today (Thursday) and after 15 hours of relentless cannonading, machine gun fire and infantry charges, routed his opponent, making himself the master of the situation around the Chinese capital.

Tonight Wu's forces camped unharmed outside the city gates while Chang's soldiers were scattered. The total casualties in the day's fighting are believed to have reached from 5,000 to 7,000 dead and wounded.

Before dawn Wu Pei-Fu started a simultaneous attack on all of Chang Tso-Lin's entrenched positions to the southwest of Peking. By five o'clock the Manchurian general had retired from Changsin, 12 miles southwest of Peking's gates.

Wu Starts Many Drives

Wu Pei-Fu's attack on Fengtai is believed to have been undertaken concurrently with similar drives at Muchang, on Chang Tso-Lin's southern front and also on his middle front on the Hun river. Consular reports indicated that the fighting at those places was intense. No details were received, but it was reported that Chang Tso-Lin's army was forced to retire.

Peking Walls Guarded

Peking tonight slept behind guarded walls. The gates were closed and barred and patrols of soldiers patrolled to and fro all night with fixed bayonets.

Only persons bound on official business were permitted to pass. Railroad communication in all directions has been suspended.

To Drive Chang Back To Mukden

PEKING, May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—General Wu Pei-Fu, leader of the Chih Li army, has sent a number of his officers into Peking to consult with the government authorities after his victory over General Chang Tso-Lin's forces south of this city. General Wu's officers declared the Chih Li commander could be expected in the capital soon.

General Wu attributes much of his success to the initiative of Feng Yuh-Siang, "the Christian general," which resulted in the retreat eastward of Chang's army. Wu declares he will continue to fight until Chang has been driven back to Mukden, of which he is military governor.

Two thousand of Chang Tso-Lin's soldiers permanently kept in Peking were disbanded under orders from Wu Pei-Fu. This is regarded as eliminating Chang Tso-Lin's authority in the capital.

HARRIMAN TELLS WHY HE'S WORKING TO BUILD UP MERCHANT MARINE

ROCKEFELLER, Morgan and Harriman—mention those names to Wall Street reporters in connection with an interview and they will tell you "it can't be done." In fact, it simply isn't done! The traditions of the house of Harriman have been sustained in this respect until today, when Edward M. Thierry did the impossible again by obtaining an authorized interview and personal story from Harriman, and in addition a signed statement, setting forth his ambitions and ideals as a marine engineer and an American citizen. "My ships are national assets," says Harriman, and he explains why in this interview and statement. It's another exclusive story.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY (Copyright, 1922, by NEA Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—A new figure is rising in the shipping world—William Averell Harriman, son of the great railroad king, the late E. H. Harriman.

With a heritage of brains and the genius for organization that was his father's greatest asset, Harriman is taking the leadership in building an American merchant marine.

"It is great constructive work," he said, in describing for NEA Service his ambitions for American shipping. "We are doing pioneer work."

Harriman is only 30, yet in five years he has become a power in shipbuilding and ship operation.

Start An Accident

"I got into the shipping business by accident," he said. "And I'm keeping at it."

That is his modest way of saying it has been his foresight of the need for ships that impelled him to go into shipbuilding on a big scale two months before America entered the war. It was this "accident" of guessing right, and foreseeing the needs of the nation, that put him into shipping.

"I am a believer in the United States merchant marine," he said. "When such a necessity as this comes a necessity for developing our export trade and building a naval auxiliary that is a national asset. I feel that ways and means will be found to make a merchant marine a success."

Eyes Like Father's

Harriman, who is tall, slender and broad shouldered, with a wide firm mouth, dark brown hair brushed straight back, and dark face and eyes like his father, sits at a desk in an office overlooking lower Broadway, and talks in a grave, serious way—about ships; he dislikes talking of himself.

He didn't say—though shipping (Continued On Page Thirteen)

"My Ships National Assets"

BY WILLIAM AVERELL HARRIMAN, Chairman of the Board of the United American Lines

I AM a believer in the United States merchant marine. It is necessary in the development of our national economic life.

It is important that we should have an American fleet to carry on strategic trades. Manufacturers have found in the past that foreign lines are more interested in developing trade out of their own countries than out of ours.

High class passenger and mail ships have been lacking in the American merchant marine. They are essential as an adjunct to our army and navy establishment. The two ships, the Resolute and the Bellanca, which the United American Lines are putting into the transatlantic service, are important not only commercially but as instruments of national defense. They are national assets.

The public is giving gratifying support to our efforts in putting these ships flying the American flag into service. We expect to merit their continued support through efficiency and service.

Barracks

Blown Up

DUBLIN, May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The barracks at Castle Pollard, West Meath, were blown up by the irregular forces who destroyed the Mullingar barracks on Wednesday. The irregulars were pursued from Mullingar to Castle Pollard by provisional government forces and the barracks were blown up to prevent their occupation.

Two of the men who raided the bank at Mullingar, County Down, were shot dead. A nine-year-old girl one of the five civilians wounded during the fighting died of her injuries.

Mary Pickford Heads Movie Actress Club

LOS ANGELES, CAL., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Mary Pickford has been chosen president of a club of motion picture actresses, the primary purpose of which is to protect the good names of its members. It was announced here today.

Miss Helen Ferguson, organizer, stated admission would be by investigation only and none would be admitted who were not "credits to the industry."

THREE DEAD; TWO DYING FOLLOWING GUN BATTLE WITH POLICE KIDANPPERS

CANTON, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Three men were dead and two bandits dying early today, the result of a gun battle in a woods five miles north of here late yesterday between an armed posse and four gunmen, following the kidnapping of a motorcycle policeman, who had arrested the men for speeding.

The gunmen, police say, had come here in a stolen automobile to assist in the release of "Oklahoma Slim" John Stevens, a member of their gang, who is in the local workhouse and who is said to be wanted in numerous middle-western cities on charges of bank robbery.

Posseman, Two Gunmen Killed

The dead: Ralph W. Hoffer, Canton contractor, member of the posse. Eddie Stevenson, Cleveland gunman, and an unidentified gunman.

Harry Harper and George Brainer, the other gunmen, were shot through the head. Physicians said they could not survive the day.

Two others of the posse also were shot.

When the gunmen were arrested by Motorcycle Policeman John Wise, they forced him to enter their auto and drove to the woods, where they bound, gagged and tied the officer to a tree.

J. C. Campbell, a telephone lineman, who witnessed the kidnapping, notified the police, then jumped into his automobile and followed the gunmen. Several times he stopped, climbed a telephone pole, cut in on a wire with his testing apparatus and notified the officers of the course of the fugitives.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS CONFER ON QUESTION OF OPPOSING DONAHEY

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—Conferees among Democratic political leaders here today are expected to result in determining whether former State Auditor A. V. Donahey, of New Philadelphia, is to be opposed for the Democratic nomination for governor in the August primaries. Mr. Donahey, who was the party's candidate in 1920, already has announced his candidacy.

Today's conferences are primarily, it is said, to determine whether George White, of Marietta, former chairman of the state industrial commission, will enter the race against Donahey. Political observers said it was practically a foregone conclusion that either White or Duffy would enter.

White and Duffy are scheduled to confer late today on the proposition of one of them withdrawing from the race. Neither, however, has yet formally announced his candidacy.

White also is to confer with Mr. Donahey. Mr. White, prior to the conferences, would not discuss the situation.

It was reported that both White and Duffy consider it would be a futile proposition to make the race a three-cornered one and that they hope to reach an understanding whereby one of them may not enter the race. Whether they will be able to reach such an understanding, however, was said to be without certainty. Mr. Duffy was engaged in industrial commission hearings today and would not discuss the situation. Mr. Donahey had not arrived at noon.

With the announcement of former Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols, of Butavia, that he would not enter the race for the nomination, many party leaders had considered it as a foregone conclusion that former Chairman White would immediately announce.

Before such announcement was forthcoming, however, Mr. Duffy became active as a prospective candidate. It is said there was a tacit understanding between Mr. White and Mr. Nichols that if one chose to enter the race the other would not.

Mr. Donahey, it is reported, will have the support of State Executive Chairman W. W. Durbin. Whether former Governor Cox has expressed a preference for candidates is not known. It was pointed out, however, by Mr. White's friends that he and the former governor are close personal friends. On the other hand, both Donahey and Duffy's friends contend there is equal friendship between their candidates and the former governor.

AUTOS COLLIDE NEAR WHEELERSBURG

A serious automobile collision occurred just the other side of the Wheelersburg High School at four o'clock Friday morning when machines driven by Charles May of this city and Francis Hankis of Ashland, Ky., sideswiped each other. Both machines were badly damaged, but none of the occupants was hurt. After the Hankis car struck the May machine it whirled around and started up the hill near the Wheelersburg school and did not stop until it struck a locust tree. The front was crumpled in and both front wheels were smashed. The May machine was also considerably damaged.

Mr. May had gone to Ironton to get his family, who had been visiting there and was on his way to Cincinnati when the collision occurred.

Mr. Hankis had attended a local dance last night and was on his way home. Other occupants in his car were: Frank Gillespie, Minford Whittr, Robert Miller, William Barber, W. Minchauer of Ashland. Sheriff Ricker was called to the scene, but he soon returned to the city when the owners of the machines agreed to settle their damages.

Hankis, who is a well known football player, was driving a brand new Studebaker car.

HUNT FOR GUN USER; UNCOVER STILL

Thursday while Sheriff Callahan and Deputies Sturgill and Tinsley of Greenup and officers from Russell were combing the hills of the Flatwoods community back of Russell in the search for Willard Thompson wanted in connection with the shooting of a young man at Russell. Wednesday night they came across a 40 gallon copper still.

It was destroyed along with many gallons of mash. Lunch left by the moonshiners, who must have had lookouts watching for officers was also found but the officers could not find any finished product. The "worm" of the still was taken to the sheriff's office at Greenup.

At a meeting of the Clay Township board of education Thursday evening Architects Devoss and Donaldson of this city were commissioned to prepare plans for a handsome eight room, fire-proof school building, which is to be built south of the Scioto Trail and just north of Rosemount Road. They were also commissioned to prepare plans for a two-room brick school building for District No. 5, which lies east of Rosemount Road. These new

Contractors To Speed Up Work Before New Rod Mill Is Operated

At the regular meeting of the Contractors Association Thursday night at the Mary Louise Samuel Hochow was the principal speaker and he urged the contractors to hurry along with their new homes under way or in contemplation as they will be needed when the new rod and wire mill of the Whitaker-Glessner company is placed in operation. "It will mean that 700 additional workmen and their families will be brought to the city," Mr. Hochow said.

"Word I have received from George A. Paff, superintendent of the rod and wire mill department of the Whitaker-Glessner company is to the effect that of these men, many will be high salaried executives; three hundred experienced American workmen, and four hundred Hungarian workmen. "It is the desire of the company to have the Hungarians segregated in one community. Experience has taught that they prefer living in one quarter." He stated that in the near future, Mr. Paff would come to Portsmouth to address a meeting of the real estate men, contractors and others interested in the building of homes in Portsmouth, at which time the proposition will be thoroughly discussed, and ways and means provided for the putting over of the big proposition. The contractors heartily pledged cooperation and stated that they would do all that could be done in the matter of providing housing.

CHALLENGES DAUGHERTY

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—(By The Associated Press)—Discussion of Attorney General Daugherty's connection with the pardoning of Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, from the Atlanta prison, was renewed once again in the senate today with Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, challenging Mr. Daugherty to disclose the facts and "expose the people" to which reference was made by the attorney general in a statement yesterday.

Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, thereupon put into the record letters from Chief Justice Taft and former Attorney General Wickersham, denying that Mr. Daugherty had influenced their action in the case.

Both letters were written in November, 1915, at which time Mr. Daugherty was a candidate for the senate in Ohio. Chief Justice Taft, who was president when Morse was pardoned, said in his letter that he desired to "say that in no way did you (Mr. Daugherty) influence me in respect to the application for the pardon of Charles W. Morse."

Will Need Assistants To Care For Local Cripples

Chairman Arthur Bannion in charge of the work in connection with Crippled Children's Week today sent word to Dr. Robert B. Coffield of Cincinnati to bring several assistants with him when he comes here Monday to the Crippled Children's clinic to be held at the Court House, starting at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

More than 100 crippled children were listed in Scioto county and it is thought that close to 80 will be here for examination Monday.

To help in the work at the clinic six nurses and two stenographers have been engaged. Plans have also been made to have automobiles bring the children to and take them away from the clinic.

Anyone knowing of a crippled child should not fail to notify a member of the Rotary Club at once.

SEARCH ENDS IN ARREST OF THOMPSON

Is Held For Investigation Following Killing Of Maynard

An all day search of the Flatwoods community south-west of Russell, Ky., by Sheriff Callihan and deputies of Greenup county Thursday resulted in the arrest of Willard Thompson, about 22, wanted in connection with the death of Landon Maynard, 21, young man of near Gray's Branch, Ky., who was shot and almost instantly killed about eight o'clock Wednesday evening in front of the Brown garage on the Flatwoods pike a half mile west of Russell.

Thompson was landed in the Greenup jail about eight o'clock last night and is held for investigation. A charge is to be filed against him as soon as the Greenup county coroner makes known the result of an inquest held at Russell Thursday before the body of Maynard was sent to his home at Gray's Branch.

According to Sheriff Callihan the only remark made by Thompson after his arrest was "I had to do what I done." Sheriff Callihan, deputies Sturgill and Tinsley of Greenup and Policemen Harry Stewart and Will Nichols of Russell formed the party that started a search for Thompson early Thursday morning. Thompson disappeared Wednesday night shortly after the shooting and killing of Maynard, the shooting it is alleged following a quarrel between the two men the quarrel starting over the proposed purchase of moonshine.

The officers had talked with Thompson's father early in the day and told him it would be better for the young man to surrender. Later the father went out in the hills to find his son. The officers continued their search and about five o'clock as Thompson and his father neared their home the officers played the young man under arrest.

The revolver alleged to have been used was turned over to the officers by the young man's father. It is a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson and contained one loaded cartridge. According to the officers Thompson said he threw away several empty shells. Thompson will be given an examining trial before county court Judge L. E. Nichols at Greenup Saturday. Greenup citizens had offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Thompson and this reward will go to Sheriff Callihan and deputies.

The body of Landon Maynard was sent from Russell to his home at Gray's Branch, west of Greenup Thursday. The young man, about 21 years of age, worked with his father on the farm. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Maynard, and two brothers, Fred, who attends the Normal School at Richmond, Ky., and Alonzo, at home.

THIS FLORIDA FATHER KNOWS What Children Often Need—Eighteen Happy Children in a Healthy Black-Draught Family

Bolts, Fla.—Near here is the plantation homestead of Santa Rosa County's well-known family—the Taylors. To a visitor at the Taylor home, the Rev. W. N. Taylor authorized publication of the following statement:

"I am comparatively a young man; am healthy and can do a lot of work. I am the father of eighteen living children. Our last children were twins. I lost one grown daughter from lung trouble, but certainly can say I have a healthy lot of children, about as healthy as you will find anywhere, and I feel I have been blessed."

"Our home remedy is Theodor's Black-Draught. I don't know when the time was that I haven't used it. I have used it ever since I was married. I know. When the little ones are feverish, or have colds, we make a tea from Black-Draught and give them. When they are older, they take the powder dry. I know it is fine for headaches, sour stomach, indigestion, and other liver troubles."

"I don't know just what we would have done without Black-Draught. It has done wonders in our family towards keeping them well and healthy. Thanks to a good remedy."

"I am a preacher, farmer and merchant. It takes all to take care of us."

(In an article about the Taylor children, printed some time ago in many newspapers, Mr. Taylor was quoted as saying that "they had always been happy, had always continued in good health, and hope to so continue.") At all druggists.

Auto On Fire, Damage Slight

The company from the Seventh street fire station hurried to Third street Thursday afternoon when an automobile belonging to William Trent Seatonville took fire while undergoing some mechanical repairs. The blaze was quickly put out and but little damage resulted.

Hazeltree will insure Plan Guaranteed Yearly Minimum Wage For Miners

CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—A plan providing regular workers of the industry throughout the country with a guaranteed yearly minimum wage was expected to be acted upon by delegates to the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, in biennial convention here today.

Meyer Deisteln, second international vice president of the organization, said he would introduce a resolution today providing for a national unemployment fund. Under the proposed plan, both the workers and employers would contribute to the fund, out of which the workers would be paid during the dull season.

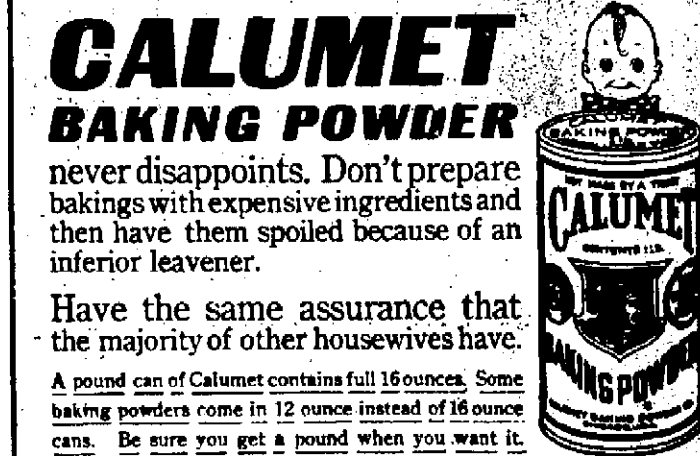

A report of general executive board said the industrial depression has seriously interfered with a plan for union owned factories and stores.

Killed When Train Hits Auto
NILES, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—James Millas, of Youngstown, driver of an auto bus operating between Youngstown and Warren, was killed and two occupants of the bus injured, early today when an Erie railroad switch engine struck the bus at a railroad crossing here.

Millions of housewives use Calumet Baking Powder because of its dependability—because when they place their baking in the oven, they know it will "turn out" all right. They are confident of results because they know that no matter what they bake—pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins—the results will be the same—light, perfectly raised, wholesome foods.

never disappoints. Don't prepare bakings with expensive ingredients and then have them spoiled because of an inferior leavener.

Have the same assurance that the majority of other housewives have.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Rumor Unfounded
Shortly after the body of Raymond Willey, local insurance salesman, was found in the Ohio river below the mouth of the Soloto late Thursday afternoon, rumors quickly spread that it was the body of Aubrey Warnock, young man of back of Fullerton, who drowned April 11 in the Ohio river opposite the N. & W. terminals. The bodies of Thomas Truitt and Leonard Warnock, drowned at the same time as Aubrey Warnock, were recovered last week and last night when it was reported that a body had been found the rumor was that it was the body of the third victim, Aubrey Warnock.

Fate had seen fit to mold the life

BARRY HOUSTON into tragic molds. Tried for the murder of his cousin,

TOM LANGDON, and acquitted because of favorable testimony of

AUNES JERDON, Houston's father dies without regaining faith in his son. He leaves Barry timber holdings in Tabernacle only on condition that a high output be maintained.

Mysterious accidents in the mill have prevented this and Houston, arriving from Boston, finds that he has been betrayed by his mill superintendent.

FRED THAYER, Houston discharges Thayer. First the mill is burned down and then Houston is deprived, by a forged lease, of the rights to his timber lands. With the aid of

BASTISTE RENAUD, an eccentric

French-Canadian, whose life has been saddened by the double tragedy of his son's death in France and the unsolved murder of his wife, Houston continues the fight. During his stay in Tabernacle, Houston has been attracted by

MEDAIINE ROBINETTE, owner of neighboring timber lands. He tells her that Thayer's statement that he was accused of murder is true.

Houston learns that Aunes Jordon

has told that he saw him kill Tom Langdon. Ba'tiste and Barry land a million dollar contract for cutting timber. Enroute to Chicago Barry overhears some interesting comment from an interne of a hospital.

Houston gets some touchy evidence at the hospital that the prosecuting attorney "persecuted" him after knowing him to be innocent and with this knowledge hires Mitthage to give him the machinery he needs and pay for it in installments.

The machinery is blocked on the way by a huge snowdrift and the entire region is forced to turn to the aid of snow-bound families.

Houston starts out in the early morning before Ba'tiste is up. He battles against the storm and finally comes to a cabin in which he finds

Agnes Jordon and her baby. The baby is dead, she unconscious. She makes him promise to carry it to a priest.

Melaine Robinette assists him to Crestline. They suffer many hardships and find no inhabitants at Crestline

when they arrive there.

Houston must carry his burden to the next settlement. The ice covered way is more difficult. Medaine goes with him. They come in sight of the snowplows which have started the fight against the snow at the instancof Denver newspapers. Medaine falls exhausted and Houston carries her to the railroad crew and goes on to Tolliver where the baby is sitting on burial. He then returns to the crew, offers his services and is given a job as fireman, gradually they work their way through the snow to Death Trail. Cowards are warned to leave the crew before this work is started but no man leaves.

The whistles screamed. Up the grade, four engines to a plow, the jets of steam shilling upward, conching columns of smoke leaping blackly up the mountain side.

A jarring crash that all but threw the men of the first crew from their feet and the Death Trail had been met. Then clanging, snarling, roaring, the snow flying in cloud-like masses past them, the first plow hit its way deep into the tremendous mass, while sweating men, Barry and Houston, entered and dropped beside the older man, already dragging forth the drawers of the bureau and pawing excitedly among the trinkets

there. A watch, a ring, and a locket with a curly strand of baby hair.

The giant sobbed.

"My Pierre—set was my Pierre."

"What's that?" Houston had raised suddenly, was staring in the direction of an old commode in the corner. At the door the wolf-dog sniffed and snarled. Ba'tiste, bending among the lost trinkets that once had been his wife's did not hear.

Houston grasped him by the shoulder and shook him excitedly.

"Ba'tiste! Ba'tiste! There's someone hiding—over there in the corner. I heard sounds—look at Golde-mar!"

"Hiding? No. There is no one here—no one but Ba'tiste and his memories. No one."

"I tell you I heard someone. The commode moved. I know."

He rose, only to suddenly veer and flatten himself against the wall. The yellow blaze of aimless revolver fire had spurted from the corner; then the plunging form of a gaunt, gauntling, limping man, who rushed past Houston to the door, swerved

there, and once more raised the revolver. But he did not fire.

A furry, snarling thing had leaped at him, knocking the revolver from his hand in his plunging ascent.

Then a cry a gurgling growl. Teeth had clenched at the throat of the man; together they rolled through the door to the snow without. Golde-mar, his hold broken by the fall, striving again for the death clutch,

the man screaming in sudden frantic fear.

"Take him off!" The voice of the thin-voiced Fred Thayer was shrill and urgent.

Houston among them, examined cool into the open, angry fire boxes; the sand strewn on greasy tracks; and the cavalcade went on.

A hundred yards—the beans knocking down the snow above and all but covering the engines which forced their way through.

A shout. A pull at the whistle, screeching forth its note of victory. Then, the blare of the whistles was drowned in a greater sound, a roar that reverberated through the hills like the bellow of a thousand thunders, the cracking and crashing of trees, the splintering of great rocks above the Death Trail loomed at last and crashed downward in an all-consuming rush of destruction. Trees gave way before the constantly gathering mass of white, and joined in the downfall. Great boulders, abutting rocks, slides of shale! On it went, thundering toward the valley and glenning like, at last to crash there; to send the ten-foot thicknesses of ice splintering like broken glass; to pyramid, to spray the whole wetter world with ice and snow and scattering rocks; then to settle, a jumbled conglomerate mass of destructiveness, rubbed of its prey.

And the men shouted, and screamed and beat at one another in their frenzy of happiness, in spite of the fact that the truck had been torn away from behind them as though it never had existed, and that they now were cut off entirely from the rest of the world. Only one snowshed remained, with but a feeble bark of drifts before it.

Night faded. Dawn came and then—the sun! Clear and brilliant with the promise of spring again and of melting snows. The fight was over.

Morning of the second day—and again the sunshine.

Tabernacle was in the distance, while men and women waded through the soggy snows to be the first to reach the train. Eagerly Barry searched the thronging crowd, at last to catch sight of a gigantic figure, his wolf-dog beside him.

"Ba'tiste!" he called. "Ba'tiste!"

Great arms opened wide. A sob came from the throat of a giant. "Mon Barce! Mon Barce!" It was all he could say for a moment.

"We've won, Ba'tiste! The line's open—they'll be running trains through before night. And if she keeps her promise—"

"She?" Ba'tiste stared down at him. They had drawn away from the rest of the excited, noisy throng.

"She? You mean—"

"Agnes. You've been taking care of her, haven't you? I found her—she promised that she would tell the truth for me when I got back, that she would explain the lease and contract and tell Medicine that it was all a lie. She—"

But Ba'tiste Renaud shook his head.

"No, Barce. Eat is the too late. I have just come—from there. I have close her eyes."

DEAD! Houston saw Medicine Robinette pass in the distance, and his eyes followed her until she had rounded the curve by the dead aspens—the cres of lost hope.

"Without a word!" / It spelled blackness for Houston. "I—I spelled you've taken charge of everything."

"Out! But I have look at nothing!"

"I just had something here." Houston fumbled in his pockets. "She would want it around her neck—"

But the sudden glare in Ba'tiste's eyes stopped him as he brought forth the emerald and its tangled chain. The giant's hands raised. His big lips twisted. A lunge and he had come forward, savage, almost beast-like.

"You!" he bellowed. "Where you get that? Hear me, where you get that?"

"From her. She—"

"Then come! Come—quick with me!" He almost dragged the younger man away, hurrying him toward the sled and its broad-backed old horses.

"We must get to the cabin, out—yes! Hurry!" Houston saw that he was trembling. "Get is the thing I look for—the thing I look for!"

"Ba'tiste! What do you mean?"

"My Juliette," came hoarsely. "Zel is my Juliette."

Already they were in the sled, the wolf-dog perched between them, and hurrying along the misty road. Two miles they went, the horses urged to their greatest speed.

At last came the little clearing—and the cabin. Ba'tiste already was within.

Houston entered and dropped be-

Coroner Finds Raymond Willey's Death Was Accidental

Theory Is That Victim Of River Tragedy Suffered Heart Attack And Falling Into the Ohio Was Drowned

"Death was due to natural causes," was the verdict of Coroner J. D. Hendrickson in the mysterious death of Raymond Willey, well known insurance collector whose lifeless form was found floating in the Ohio river opposite the "Cottonwoods" just below the mouth of the Scioto river Thursday afternoon between 4:30 and 5 o'clock. The body was found by two young men who were fishing in that vicinity. Coroner Hendrickson's theory of the death of Mr. Willey is that the insurance agent was on his way to the Corney Smith houseboat moored at the "Cottonwoods" to sell the family insurance and while on the river bank approaching the houseboat suffered a heart attack and fell into the river.

Coroner Hendrickson's theory is shared by Sheriff E. E. Rickey, both officers scolding the suicide or murder theory. They claim that it was not suicide as the body was floating and say that the murder theory is discounted by no marks of violence being found on the body.

The verdict of Coroner Hendrickson means that no autopsy will be held, the case being a closed incident as far as the officers are concerned.

Was Seen To Cross the Bridge

According to the officers, Coroner Hendrickson and Sheriff Rickey, Mr. Willey went across the Scioto river and down the road towards the "Cottonwoods" alone. They claim they had this information from a West End mail who watched the insurance agent cross the bridge.

The body of Willey could not have been in the water but a short time. It was found about a half mile below the mouth of the Scioto river about 4:30 o'clock. He had been at the Western and Southern Company's office in the Masonic temple as late as 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon as he left several of his fellow agents he made the remark, "I have one more collection to make in the West End."

Just about two hours later his body was found about 25 feet from the shore by Raymond Purtee, 17 of 1828 Jackson street and Edward Shields, 17 son of Thomas Shields 2281 Robinson avenue. They were in Shields' canoe and had been fishing near the "Cottonwoods" since about 1:30 Thursday afternoon.

Body Identified

Coroner Hendrickson notified Mr. Troxel who went to DuCher's morgue with Arthur Gerlach. Mr. Gerlach is secretary of the Catholic Order of Foresters of which Mr. Willey was a member and both men identified the body as that of Raymond Willey who was widely known in every section of the city.

About 5 o'clock Mr. Troxel and Mr. Gerlach went to the Willey home 1710 Fifth street and broke the tragic news to the wife, Mrs. Anna Schumm Willey, who had been greatly worried over her husband's failure to return home at the usual time for the evening meal.

It was about 1:30 o'clock when Mr. Willey left home Thursday. He had not been feeling well and had been lying down awhile at the noon hour.

TONIGHT—TOMORROW
"THE CALL OF HOME" is one picture in a thousand. It tells the life story of a man who deserted all he held dear because he thought the one woman was unfaithful to him.
He fled to South America, married a native girl who saved him from death in a torrential river, and tried to be contented.
But not until the bars that kept him from home were swept away by a devastating flood, and he had returned to home and kindred did he find peace and happiness.
This is a really great picture. The flood scenes will make you want to stand up and shout.

Prizma Film—Orchestra

When he left he said to his wife, "Let the carpet go, Anna, I'll beat it when I come home tonight." Those were his last words to his wife. He then reported at the office of the insurance company in the Masonic Temple and was there from shortly after two o'clock until after 2:30.

According to Superintendent Troxel, Mr. Willey was a man of regular habits and whenever he was in the office doing his work he had one special chair that he always used. James Anderson and other agents were in the office just before Mr. Willey arrived there yesterday afternoon and a few minutes before he reported Mr. Anderson had made the statement, "I guess I better get out of this chair for it is time for Willey to be in." He had just vacated the chair when Mr. Willey arrived and took his chair and went about his work as usual. He was always at the office at certain times of the day.

He never carried his debit book like the other agents, but always made note of payments on slips of paper and on his return to the office would check up his book with the slips.

According to Mr. Troxel, he will take sometime to check up his debit book as there are a number of addresses missing and on account of this it is impossible to tell on whom he called yesterday. Thursday is always a big day in collections with Mr. Willey and he never turns in less than $35, while his collections generally run as high as $45. His last trip away from the office was to make one more collection before making his usual Thursday report. He generally turned in his report about 4 o'clock.

Became Alarmed Over Willey's Absence

After all the other agents had reported and turned in their collections Mr. Troxel became uneasy and called Mr. Willey's home, only to learn that he was not there. Later when the supper hour passed and his husband did not arrive, Mrs. Willey called Mr. Troxel several times to see if he had heard from Mr. Willey.

Mr. Troxel thinking that Mr. Willey had been accidentally injured and taken to a hospital, called the police station but found that no accidents had been reported. Mr. Troxel was at home about 6:15 o'clock when called by Dr. Hendrickson.

Coroner Hendrickson examined all the pockets of the man's clothes and found only $7 and some change and papers in a wallet.

According to Superintendent Troxel, Mr. Willey should have had close to $40 on him yesterday, the amount representing the day's collections. As soon as possible a check will be made of Mr. Willey's debit book to see if it is correct, he determined just how much he collected yesterday.

When it became known that considerable money was missing the reports soon spread that Mr. Willey had been murdered. Other reports were that he had committed suicide. The suicide theory was dismissed when an investigation showed that Mr. Willey owned his own home, had his own car and did not owe a penny and that his home life was a happy one.

The murder theory was next to be discounted. The only ground to this theory was the difference in the amount of money he was supposed to have and the amount found. Coroner Hendrickson says there were no marks on the body that would give ground for such a theory. He says that Willey probably did not make his usual collections yesterday on account of feeling ill.

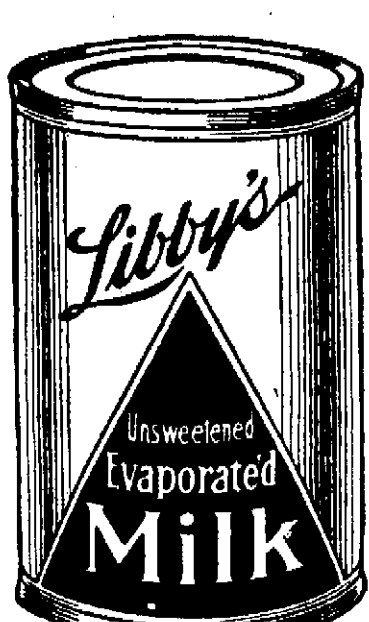

This leaves the theory that he came to death from natural causes and fell into the river.

What was the man doing so near the river was the next question to be answered. The only plausible reason that can be advanced was that he was making his way to the houseboat probably to try to sell a policy when he suffered a fatal heart attack and fell into the river.

Three years ago coming to this city he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Elizabeth Schumm. They had no children. Mrs. Willey, her mother and sister, are the only living relatives in this city surviving.

Willey is survived, however, by two brothers and three sisters. One brother, Charles Willey, lives in Jackson, Ohio, where he engaged in the insurance business. Twenty years ago he came to this city and went to work for the Western and Southern Insurance Co., in whose employ he has remained until the time of his death.

In the country, they deferred further investigation until this morning. A visit to the scene this morning did not reveal any tracks of any kind, the hard rain of the early morning wiping out all traces of footprints.

The reports of guns being fired, heard by Mrs. Smith, were also heard by Shields and Purtee, who claim the shooting was on the Kentucky side of the river. The young men claim they did not hear any trouble on the Ohio shore, such as men quarreling. They claim that several farm wagons passed on the road at the "Cottonwoods" while they were fishing.

Subject To Heart Attacks
Relatives of the dead man said Thursday night that he was subject to heart attacks, and to lung trouble. Recently, in his sleep, they said, he had severe heart attacks, when, at times, his wife thought that he would die before relief could come to him. This led officials to the natural death theory.

Born At Zanesville
Willey was born in Zanesville, Ohio, 49 years ago the 17th of last July, and lived in that city until in his young manhood he went to Jackson, Ohio, where he engaged in the insurance business.

Twenty years ago he came to this city and went to work for the Western and Southern Insurance Co., in whose employ he has remained until the time of his death.

FARMER KILLS SELF
—SPRINGFIELD, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Stephen Jenkins, 58, well-to-do farmer of near St. Paris, east of here, ended his life late yesterday by shooting himself through the head. The body was found in an abandoned house, used as a work shop on the farm, by the wife, when he failed to return for supper. No motive for the deed is known.

Secret Of A Good Disposition
A woman who carefully safeguards her health benefits her disposition. She will be happy and attractive to all. The world unfortunately is filled with women who are unhappy because they are held back from usefulness by troubles so common among them. Fretfulness and nervousness rapidly destroy good dispositions. Sickly, all-worn-out women cannot make happy homes.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of women's health. This is clearly proven by the many letters we are continually publishing in this paper, from women who have been restored to health and happiness by its use after years of suffering. Why don't you try it?—Advertisement.

The Portsmouth American Building and Loan Association Company has one asset, none the less real because it is not reflected in a published financial statement—it is the loyalty and friendship of a host of interested shareholders and borrowers who have steadfastly and for many years given material proof of their friendship.

Viewed from a standpoint of the ideals and traditions of this organization, none of our tangible assets could be more highly prized, or of greater commercial value in our plans for the development of home ownership in this community.

Without the past confidence and co-operation of our shareholders and borrowers, we could not have obtained the high plane of service and value to the economic structure of the community, which we are today privileged to occupy.

With the continuance of such trust and confidence—which it shall be our most cherished duty to merit fully—there can be no limit to what we may accomplish for the good of the housing and employment problems now existing here.

This is a company striving to reach the highest ideals in the Building and Loan Association movement, and offering at the same time absolute security to its shareholders. We are endeavoring to give the service that we find our patrons requiring, and we shall continue to serve their interests during the coming years with an even greater zeal than ever before.

Eagles Heard Splendid Talk; Election Of Officers Is Held

"Old Age Pensions" was the subject of an interesting address delivered by Judge Thomas E. O'Donnell, of Kansas, before an audience of more than three hundred members of the fraternal order of Eagles and their guests Thursday night in Eagle Hall. Judge O'Donnell, who has been a world traveler and a student of conditions in this country and abroad where he served his country in the World War, is an eloquent speaker and he held the undivided attention of his audience for more than an hour during which he explained the old age pension movement which the National Organization of the Order of Eagles is fostering.

The speaker championed the passage of such a measure by the National Congress that will provide a system of pensions for the aged that will be beneficial and remove many worthy people from becoming objects of charity who have been useful in their youth and middle age to their communities and to their country. It was a splendid speech and there were many expressions of regret by members of the order that an open meeting was not held so that the public could have heard such an interesting message.

Judge O'Donnell was entertained at the Hotel Washington and during the afternoon he was given a trip over the city by Mayor William A. Gableman, Judge James S. Thomas, Dr. J. H. Dill, W. O. Staiger and Otto Lauffer.

Mayor Gableman presided at the meeting and introduced Judge O'Donnell. Brief talks were made by Judge McCall, St. Straus, Otto Lauffer, Joseph Distel and Harry Grice.

The business session included the annual election of officers which resulted as follows:

Worthy President, J. H. Gill.
 Worthy Vice President, Oscar Franck.

Chaplain, Floyd Brown.
 Inside Guard, Grover Conley.
 Outside Guard, Alva Rankin.
 Secretary, W. J. Baker.

Treasurer, Edward Hoeber.
 Trustee, Walter B. Schuyler.

Two applications were received. It was announced that a popular Eagle dance will be held this evening. This closed one of the best meetings the local has ever had.

Judge O'Donnell departed for Xenia this morning where he will deliver another address tonight.

Tendler And Dundee Clash

NEW YORK, May 5.—(By the Associated Press).—Law Tendler, of Philadelphia, and Johnny Dundee, of this city, meet here tonight in what is scheduled as a 15-round bout. The two boxers are required to scale 135 pounds at 2:00 p. m. according to the agreement, and both are expected to make the weight without difficulty.

The possibility of the winner meeting Benny Leonard is discussed, but if Tendler wins this seems a remote chance, as Leonard has recently consistently declined to meet Tendler as a challenger for the lightweight title.

Watch for "Man Of War."

The dirt outward as the work progresses, with the result that, when dry, there is a watermark or ring around the cleaned portion. The best way is to draw a medium-sized circle around the mark with the wet finger or cloth, letting it be a full inch away from the spot at all points. Start on this circle and rub inward dabbling up the moisture when the middle is reached, so that the stain is removed rather by dabbling than by pushing. A stain, cleaned in this way dries right off, and no mark is left at all.

Dear Miss Dolly—I wish you would print a recipe for a way to make daisy pie crust. Mine is so tough I almost have to take the hatchet to cut it. Also how shall I keep what is left over?

YOUNG HOUSEWIFE.
Avoid rubbing the shortening in too thoroughly; it should be left in small flakes. Fold and roll out the dough several times in order that it may form separate layers with air held between them. Before putting the pie in the oven, brush over with milk or hold under the cold water faucet at an angle, letting the water trickle gently over the top and turning the plate until the entire surface is wet. Roll leftover pastry in cheesecloth wrung out of cold water and then in a second, thicker, dry cloth. If put in a cold place it will keep soft and fresh for at least a week. A better way, however, is to mix the shortening and flour and set aside in that condition before adding the water. When ready to use, fold days later, and the water this is a great time saver. Another way is to bury the crust in the flour until ready to use it.

SOCIETY.
A brilliant social function (this afternoon) was the charming tea given by Mrs. Lide Kearns, Mrs. Charles S. Hall, Mrs. J. Leigh Watkins, Mrs. C. O. Dodson and Miss Katherine Hall, who received about one hundred of their friends at the Hall home, 1321 Second street, from three to five o'clock.

The lower floor of this handsome home, which affords an ideal place for a large gathering, was converted into a veritable bower, with a profusion of spring flowers and ferns. Tall vases and fancy baskets of these lovely blooms placed here and there, heralded the glad springtime.

Mrs. T. C. Galtner (Margaret Martin) of Cincinnati pinned the favors, while Mrs. Robert L. Gilbert and Mrs. William B. Altman invited the guests into the dining-room.

Assisting in the dining-room, were Mrs. Oris Ricker, Misses Katherine Appel, Lena and Edna Hauck, Thelma Ricker and Irene McGregor.

Mrs. Raymond D. York and Mrs. E. Ainger presided at the coffee table during the first hour, and Mrs. Edward D. Stevens and Mrs. John Reilly served during the second hour.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Charles Blakemore of Rome, N. C., Mrs. Ralph Sullivan of Cleveland, Mrs. Stephen Cone of Cincinnati, Mrs. T. C. Galtner of Cincinnati.

Mr. R. G. Gilmore, agent and general manager of the United Fuel Gas Company in this district, left this morning for Huntington, W. Va., where he will join Mr. J. W. Reeser, the general superintendent, and together they will go to Charleston, W. Va., where they will be guests at an elaborate banquet given at the Ritz hotel. The banquet is given as a farewell to L. A. Seibert, who is retiring from his duties of secretary and treasurer of the United Fuel Gas Co.

The pupils of Miss Clara Cropper, Miss Helen Chick and Miss Thelma Ricker of the Union Street school, presented a delightful little playlet, entitled, "A Springtime Revelation," on the front lawn of the school Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, in celebration of "Parent's Day," the teachers of the children being guests for the afternoon.

The play, which was a revelation in more ways than one, was written by Miss Clara Cropper, and directed by herself. Miss Helen Chick and Miss Thelma Ricker. Miss Chick directed the singing while Miss Ricker acted the part of the school principal.

The characters for the play were chosen from the 4-A grade, taught by Miss Chick; 6-B, taught by Miss Cropper, and 6-A, taught by Miss Ricker. The first number on the program was a song, "The Music of the Brook," sung by the 7-A and 8-B grades. The next was a recitation, "The Tree's Dream," by Miss Margaret Dietz. Robert Newman then gave a very interesting talk on "The Humming Bird." Following his talk the playlet was presented with the following cast of characters, all dressed in fairy-like costumes of varicolored crepe paper and tulle:

Fairy Queen—Mildred Dressler.
Little Girl—Roselle Robinson.
Birds—Dorothy Flowers, Edna Atkins, Joy Judd, Katherine Bush, Martha Lee Doty, Marjorie Tillis. These were dressed in colored paper costumes to represent the different birds.

Dancers—Helen Hughes, Bernice Scott, Avanelle Carr, Irene Brown. These four little maids wore bright colored tulle dresses and did the flower dance in a charming and graceful manner.

Queen's Maids—Suzanna Craft, Dorothy Seitz, Minnie Pratt, Elizabeth Barnett, Grace Keller, Thelma Ashworth, Adeline Gee and Virginia Frey.

Flowers—Virginia Frey, Mildred Nutter, Esther Held, Doris Sticker, Ruby Worthell, Verna McCord, Myrtle Leslie and Florence Marlowe.

Miss Bess Cofer of Grant street afforded several pleasant hours last evening to the members of the J. G. C. Club. An interesting evening of needlework and social chat and delicious refreshments served at a late hour were enjoyed by Misses Minnie Franck, Mamie Fout, Lillian and Harriet Mitchell, Betty Vaughn and Helen Walden of the Club members.

Guests for the evening included Mrs. Georgia Sikes, Mrs. Alice Cofer and little Alice Jane Youngman. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Mamie Fout.

Mrs. Charles Krauser of Glover street was called to Columbus Thursday by the death of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Hageman. Mr. Krauser and son Harold left this afternoon to attend the funeral, which will be held tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Ethel Eckhart of Cincinnati is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Reez, of Grandview avenue.

Mrs. Oscar Newman returns today to her home in Columbus after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Thompson and sister, Miss Ruth Thompson, Robinson avenue.

Miss Edna Golden, Chicago, Ill., is a guest at the home of Miss Elizabeth Keller, Eighteenth street for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phillips of Third street announce the birth of a son, Wednesday.

Mrs. John Sowers and Mrs. A. Kirk Wheeler will entertain a group of their friends at luncheon tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Sowers, on Lincoln street.

Mrs. John Thomas and daughters, Gertrude and Annette, returned to their home in Bluefield, W. Va., today, after a week's visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones, of Ninth and John streets.

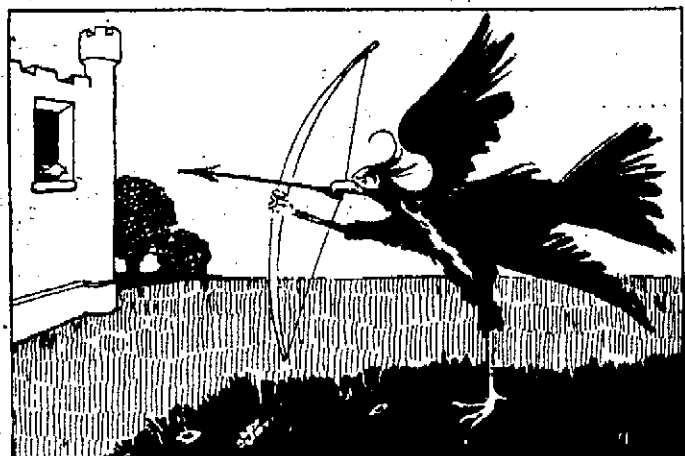

Mrs. Charles Justice of Sedan, O., is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, 2131 Eleventh street.

Mrs. John Sturr, 1527 Seventh street, will entertain members of Mrs. John Breese's Sunday school class of Trinity church at her home this afternoon, with Mrs. C. C. Craig, miles as assistant hostess.

Mrs. T. J. Galtner, of Cincinnati, is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Salmon, Moulton Place. Mrs. Galtner was formerly Miss Margaret Martin.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

He held the bow-string in his beak and the arrow he guided with one long-taloned claw.

NICK ran to the magic photograph and turned the record to the other side.

Again everyone held his breath the better to hear the words of Longhead the Wiseman. There was a buzzing sound, then Longhead's voice rang out. These were his words:

"The true king of both the Diddys and the Korksnotts is the furious falcon. He is a brave king, bewitched by a Sorcerer a thousand years ago, and turned into the form of a dove. His son was turned into a dove. The reason for it all was that the young prince was in love with Princess Thermana, and the wicked sorcerer wanted her for himself. The spell can only be broken by a marksman who will shoot the dove in the heart. Then both the falcon and the dove will return to their true forms and all will be well."

"Hear! Hear!" cried everybody in wonder. "The words must be true for Longhead never lies."

Suddenly the falcon flew down from the top of the tree on which he had been sitting. "Give me your bow," he said boldly to King Indig.

King Indig handed it over without a word.

And for an arrow the falcon plucked out one of his own barbed feathers, the one that had guided Nancy and Nick on their travels. He held the bow-string in his beak and the arrow he guided with one long-taloned claw.

"Whang! Away sped the arrow straight to the doves' heart. Instantly the dove vanished and a fine looking young man appeared in his place. He waved his hand cheerily at the people and then sprang to Princess Thermana's side.

At the same instant the falcon changed into his true form of a warrior king, before whom all the Diddys and Korksnotts bowed in awe. Ugly King Indig and awful King Verdo bowed their heads too!

"Nancy and Nick, come here," commanded King Courageous, which was the true king's name. "I have done thank you for all you have done."

AR who play good music are to be given the honor of being given a concert at 7:30 at the Terminal Music hall. It will be given by an orchestra consisting of two violins, flute, clarinet, cello, trombone, piano and drums. The orchestra is composed of well-known musicians from churches of Portsmouth, New Boston and Scitoville. The following program of classical music will be rendered: Overture—Golden Scepter, Sciepe-tri. A Garden Dance, Vorgan. Valer, Danseuse—Miles. Overture—Lustspiel, Keler-Bela.

Second Presbyterian Church News

The congregation at the Second church will be pleased to learn that they will have the opportunity of hearing two of the leading vocalists of the city on the coming Sunday. In the morning, Mrs. Margaret Stahler, whose voice will sing while in the evening, Mrs. Ruth Chandler Collins, daughter of Dr. Charles E. Chandler will render a solo. Due to the increasing interest, particularly on the part of the young people who have their life's work to do, the church has set aside the coming week as "Vocation Week." A message written by the minister of the First Presbyterian church of Chicago and presented there will take the place of the evening service. This message, which is highly recommended, will be put on by thirty of the young people of the church under the direction of Mr. W. W. Young who has successfully handled several other entertainments during the past year. The program has been named "Voices That Call." The public is cordially invited to see it.

INTERESTING DEBATE ENDS IN TIE

Both sides won in the debate held last evening by the pupils of St. Mary's high school in an interesting program given in celebration of "Catholic College Week." The subject under discussion was "The Open Shop." The affirmative was presented by Joseph Franz, Clare Vetter, Charles Burth and Alex Glockner. The negative was defended by Thaddeus Labada, Clarence Krick, Victor Labada and Raymond Flannigan.

The debaters championed their side of the issue with such spirit and intelligence that all that was left for Judges Dr. Walsh, Attorney F. Johnley and Joseph Diener to do was to retire and bring in the above verdict. Two essays, one on "Why Go To College," by Marie Baum, and the other, "The Influence of a College Education on Character," by Louise Glockner, and choral selections by the student body, an orchestra number by the school orchestra and a male quartette, were the other features of the program. A very large crowd was in attendance.

You can easily make at home a full quarted the strongest bug-killer for 35c. enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, flies and ants. This recipe will not burn, rot or stain clothing; and is entirely different from any other formula we know of, so it will kill the eggs. Prepare of your druggist a 5c package of (Foxy Dexta Quatern) P. D. Q.; then you will have the chemical made expressly to kill bedbugs, roaches and dwellings of pest bedbugs and other insects. Responsible for the quality of the product is the P. D. Q. Special formula for 35c—make five gallons. P. D. Q. can be purchased in liquid form, or in powder form, or in granular form. Sold by Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, 1003 Gallia St. or by Dr. J. E. Brandel's Pharmacy, 1003 Gallia St. and other leading druggists.—Advertisement

FIRE IN CROPPER'S CIGAR STORE

The Seventh and Gallia street fire companies were called to C. E. Cropper's cigar store on Gallia street at 11:05 last night. Fire was discovered in a rear room and it was extinguished before the firemen arrived. It is believed that it was caused by a lighted cigarette being thrown behind a strip of wallcovering.

Carpenters See

Very Busy Year

There was a splendid attendance at the regular meeting of the Carpenters Union Thursday night and during the session matters of interest to the craft were discussed at length. Included was the improved condition of employment and the bright prospect for building operations in the future.

Solomon Council Inspection Tonight

Solomon Council is holding its annual inspection and confer the super-excellent degree on a large class of candidates today, beginning at 4:00 o'clock, and with a banquet at 6:00 o'clock, representing the Most Illustrious Grand Master of Ohio, Most Illustrious Past Grand Master Comp. Lewis

R. Shaw of Gallipolis, Ohio, will inspect the council. All Royal and Select Masters are eligible for the super-excellent degree without ballot. Companions desirous of taking this degree are requested to be at the Temple not later than 6:30 p. m. and register at the Recorder's desk; the rest will be attended to by the degree team. The programme for the day is as follows:

SCENE I

Court of Zedekiah, King of Judah. Time—In the year 588 B. C. Place—One of the apartments of the Temple at

"Because my people have forgotten me, and have burned incense to vanity, and walk after other gods, behold I will give this city into the hands of the King of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant."

CAST

Comp. G. R. Griffith—Zedekiah, King of Judah.
Comp. D. A. Grimes—Gedaliah, Governor of Judah.
Comp. G. W. Zottmann—Jeremiah

Clip! Clip! Clip! Pay $1.49 And Save Barbers' Bills

Our Notion Department has been doing quite a business on hair clippers that everybody can use. They are so economical and efficient that pretty nearly every home should own a pair. The little children's hair can be attended to; "dad's" and big brother's necks can be kept in good order, to say nothing about keeping big sister's bobbed hair looking right.

These clippers may be had in our Notion Department at $1.49 a pair.

The Anderson Bros Co.

LET us show you how skillfully with a Gossard Front Lacing Corset we can coax your figure to the very most of which it is capable. Question your fitting in the truth-telling mirror. What you see will convince you that while we all can't be eighteen forever and ever the charm of graceful lines and slenderizing proportions may be ours if we buy the right corset.

STAIR CARPET

When buying carpet for a stairway used a great deal, buy one yard more than is needed. Then, when the worn places begin to appear on the top of the step, you can shift them to vertical position by using your extra carpet.

WASHING FLANNELS

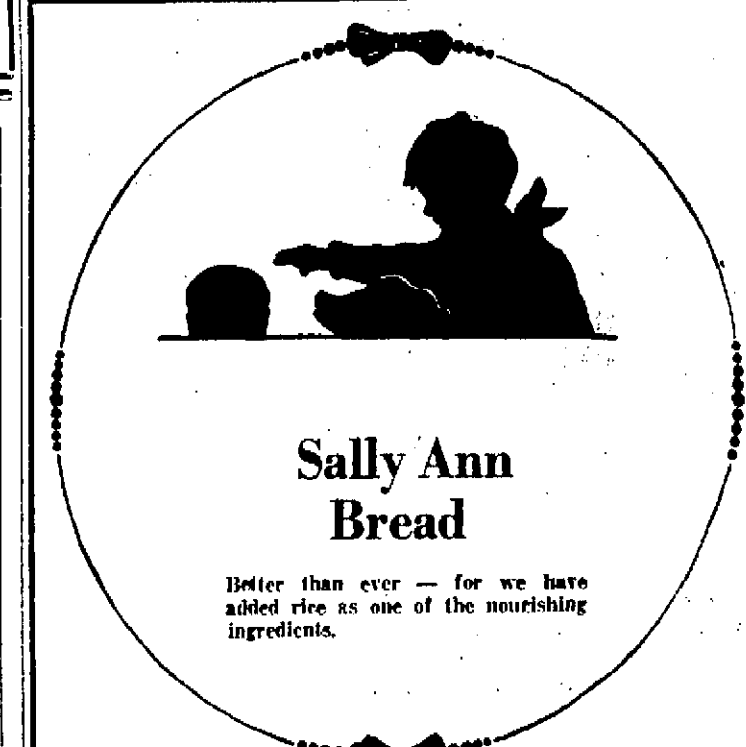

A very little soap suds in the last rinsing water for flannels will prevent them from getting stiff and bumpy.

The Essex

For the man who cares for foot comfort during the hot summer days. The Essex last was designed especially for those hard-to-fit feet and is a combination last, made of a good brown kid skin, blucher, medium round toe with just enough toe room to be nice and comfy and yet retain conservative style, rubber heels lessen the jar on the nerve system. If you are wanting foot comfort this summer, my advice is to come in and ask to be fitted in the Essex, —popularly priced at six-fifty. Other styles at five and up to ten.

ISAIAH'S SUMMONS AND RESPONSE
REV. D. S. LAMB

What does a "call" mean, in the last analysis, but the cooperation of the divine with the human, and of the human with the divine? This fact is more fundamental than the form the call takes or the particular kind of service to which it leads. If there is a hard-and-fast boundary, a kind of spiritual stone-wall, between God and man, these "calls" are but pleasant illusions. But if there are real points of contact between God and man—and not points only but whole broad areas, so that the seer cries: "Lo here! Lo there! ah me, to everywhere!"

As yet all ears are not open, nor all hearts awake, to stir in response to these calls. But how could we expect otherwise of men whose ears are deaf to the symphonies of a Beethoven, whose eyes are blind to the art of a Raphael, and whose hearts are unfurnished by the poems of a Teunissen?

"Earth's crammed with heaven,
And every common bush affire with God."
And only he who sees takes off his shoes.

The rest sit round it and pluck blackberries.

1. A Clear Call: If we are going to have any call we should like to have a clear one and a definite. This desire on our part is strongly re-enforced by the definiteness of the Scriptural accounts. Those men of ancient times seem to have had conversations with deity as direct and natural as any we might have with our next-door neighbor. Yet this impression is modified when the Scripture passages are read with more care. Take, for instance, the lesson for today. It is told so vividly that unless we shock ourselves into attention we quite overlook two important facts: (1) The whole proceeding takes place in a vision, a dream and (2) dreams today are just as vivid and definite as this one. This does not mean that anyone can have a vision as vital as this at any time. Even an Isaiah had only one. But it means that there is nothing about such visions which would make them impossible today. The spiritual experience that is felt as a divine call occurs not only in visions but in different forms. The vital factor in any case is not the form in which it is described but the spirit and action of the one to whom it came.

2.—The vision of God: We are often tempted to invert the true order and to look so eagerly at the work to be undertaken that we do not stop for the vision which alone can inspire acceptable service. This chapter is really more a vision of God than a call to service; or, rather, it is the kind of call that grows out of that vision. The spirit of our day is not friendly to the idea of the quietness of soul, of "waiting upon God." Perhaps that is why much of our service is so flimsy and superficial. In harmony with the character of the vision is the fact that the call was accepted before the task was known. Our own interest in service often depends on what we are asked to do. We are willing to go if we may choose the field. But part of the fitness for call is the courage to accept it without out conditions or reservations. It is not hard to sing, but it is very hard to mean:

"I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord, I'll be what you want me to be."

3.—The Pure in Heart: One of the deepest impressions left upon the student of this chapter is that of the prophet's sense of his inability to appear in the divine presence. In all probability Isaiah himself was "pure in heart." Had he not been the vision would not have come to him. But, like a true Hebrew, he felt himself so absolutely one with his people that he takes his place with them feeling that their sin was his own (verse 5). Not until the symbolic act of verse 7 does he hear, in his vision, the divine voice. This is another order too often inverted. When something is to be done, and someone is willing to do it, we do not always inquire too carefully into his character. If he will do the work, that is all we ask. This policy may serve in some lines of work, but not in religion. Religion is essentially personal, and those who represent it must personally exemplify it. They who go up to the mount of God must have clean hands and a pure heart. No amount of kind of attempted service can compensate for the lack of that inner purity without which no man shall see the Lord.

Black Fork School Nearing Completion

OAK HILL, O., May 5.—Contractor Evan H. Morgan expects to complete this week the new high and grade school building now under construction at Black Fork, Lawrence county, work on which was started last September.

The building which was designed by Architects Murray and Stover of Ironton is modern in every respect, being 66 by 125 feet and containing sixteen rooms, including manual training and domestic science rooms.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Is After Ferry License

ASHLAND, Ky., May 5.—Sam E. Huffman today filed a trustee notice in the Greenup county court for permission to operate a ferry between Russell and Ironton. The application for the operation of the ferry will be heard in the Greenup county court in June.

The filing of the trustee notice is said to have resulted from alleged excessive charges being made for passage on the new Ironton-Russell bridge which was opened to the public two weeks ago.

K. OF C'S. TO GA THER IN ASHLAND

ASHLAND, Ky., May 5.—The annual state convention of the Kentucky State Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held in Ashland May 8 and 9, according to announcement today by Grand Knight R. E. Byrne. Ashland Council has been making preparations to take care of this meeting in the style that is fast gaining for Ashland a reputation for hospitality and rural entertainment.

In the state of Kentucky, the Knights of Columbus have twenty-five councils and each one will have two delegates to this convention. In addition to these, there will be the various state and district officers, and with the other visitors, the total number of out of town people will probably be about one hundred.

Children And Adults Need Baptism

Baptism is necessary for salvation, because without it no one can enter the kingdom of heaven. Verily, verily, I say unto thee: Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven. John 3:5. Infants need to be baptized. All are born children of wrath, all need to be reconciled to God through baptism. We are like orphans. We need to be adopted into the family of God, and adoption is baptism. We are strangers; we need to be naturalized to enter God's kingdom, and naturalization is baptism. The effect of Adam's transgression was to deprive all men of God's grace. All men need the grace of God and baptism is the first way to recover it. The constant practice of the church has been to baptize children in infancy.

NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

HAMDEN

A group meeting of delegates of the Foreign Missionary Societies of this district was held in Hamden at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Ray on Main street Wednesday.

Delegates were present from Waterville, Wallingford, Falmouth, and Bangor. The meeting was held in the basement of the Methodist church. Feature of the meeting were speeches by Mrs. Dunlop, Miss Secretary of Williamsport; Mrs. Fisher, State worker of Waterville; and Mrs. O. O. Cross of Hamden. A report was made under the leadership of Mrs. Herb Poole of Wallingford.

This meeting was considered a most successful one from the standpoint of attendance and interest shown for cooperation in the future effective work of this Society.

Miss Gail Smith who has been teaching at Richmond closed a very successful term and has gone to her home in Murray City where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stanton, Mrs. Elizabeth Keegan and Miss Lucella Stanton attended the dance given by the Catholic Club at Wallingford Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Earl Craft chaperoned the Blue Birds a girls' club and their friends on a winterwurst roast Tuesday evening to the ball diamonds at the edge of town.

Miss Margaret Thomas spent Tuesday the guest of her sister Mrs. Harry McClain in Wallingford.

SCIOTOVILLE

The regular monthly and business meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. N. Nagel of Gallia avenue, with Mrs. George Oakes and Mrs. William Marsh as assistant hostesses. About thirty-five members and guests were present. After the business meeting was transacted Mrs. Wilfred Bennett and Mrs. E. B. Haquard gave two very pretty vocal duets, and Mrs. Mary Frick gave an interesting reading. The rooms were very prettily decorated with various kinds of spring flowers. Later in the afternoon the hostesses served brick cream, cake and coffee. Delightful favors of pumkins and valley lilies were given to the members and guests. At this meeting plans were made for a strawberry social which will be given in the near future, the time and place to be announced later. The list of guests included Mrs. Winifred Bennett, Mrs. E. B. Haquard, Mrs. George Yates, Mrs. Ruth Stout, Mrs. Carl Kaps, Mrs. Carl Rehs, and Miss Pauline Walker. After the meeting and transaction of business the sweet little baby, Dorothy Bileon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Figgins was christened by Rev. W. A. Moore.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma or hay fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, ointment preparations, fumes, "patent smokers," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all sneezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and receive the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it today—you do not even pay postage.

Druesen-Kraft Gland Tablets Have Restored Strength and Vigor to Men and Women Ailing For Years!

Report of Indianapolis Merchant
Indianapolis, Ind.

"For fifteen years I have lacked strength and vigor. I couldn't climb stairs or do a man's work. Hardly could raise my feet. Have taken only five weeks' treatment and can't recognize myself. My strength and vigor are rapidly returning, even my appearance is becoming more youthful. Am a prominent 'strong' here and believe me every member of our brotherhood will know of your remarkable treatment. Have already started a dozen and they are as enthusiastic as I am."

J. R. ANDRESSE,
308 Georgia St.

This is just one of many similar cases reported by doctors and users. DRUESEN-KRAFT (Youth-Gland) is the most effective rebuilding and rejuvenating tonic ever known. Brought here from Europe a year ago, DRUESEN-KRAFT already has the enthusiastic endorsement of thousands of doctors and users. Men and women suffering from ailments of many years' standing have been entirely restored to health and vigor through this remarkable discovery. Make the test yourself. You will be amazed at the rapidly with which health and strength will be restored and increased. Ask your druggist or send your name for free booklet on "DRUESEN-KRAFT," the Glands and Their Control of Health and Strength. Compounded in tasteless tablet form. One week's treatment $1.50 is sufficient to start. Designate whether you wish "Male" or "Female."

SOCIETY

The Central L. T. L. met last evening at the home of Mrs. W. M. Jarnes, 1109 Third street. There was a large attendance of members and visitors present. The following program was rendered:

Reading—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment—Mrs. J. A. Cooper.

Paper—The W. C. T. U.—Mrs. W. L. Creaser.

Talk—Women Voters Decalogue—Mrs. C. C. Coverston.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Jarnes served a dainty refreshment course. She was assisted by Master Howard Cooper.

The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in June at the home of Miss Mary Holt, 1128 Eighth street.

Members of the Portsmouth Reading Club will enjoy an outing Monday at "Poplar Lodge," the Selby cottage, as guests of Roger Selby, an active member of the club.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Toy, 522 Fifth street was the scene of a pretty juvenile party Thursday afternoon, given in celebration of the fourth natal day of their winsome young daughter, Betty Loraine. After a round of childish games and stunts, the little folks were served with delicious refreshments by Mrs. Toy and Mrs. C. M. Sibby. Those enjoying the afternoon with the little hostess were Misses Laura Jane Gilmer, Mildred Schimpf, Gladys Gildea, Dolores Ray, Loraine French, Catherine Wagner and Betty Loraine Toy.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Bigelow church will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Miller, 1101 Ninth street with members of Group Eight in charge. Members of this group are Mrs. Frank Miller, chairman, Mrs. Emma Carney, Mrs. Ella Evans, Mrs. William Evans, Mrs. C. B. Foster, Mrs. L. E. Selby, Mrs. Rea Selby and Mrs. Lydia Jones.

A large attendance marked the meeting of the West Portsmouth Women's Christian Temperance Union held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Holland, 841 Eighth street. Mrs. Holland has been ill for several months but was desirous of entertaining the members of the Union at her home.

Mrs. W. H. Fowler presided at the meeting and Mrs. R. Gikerson led the devotionals. Readings pertaining to the work were given by Mrs. Frank Appel, Mrs. Cornelia Trenthart, and Mrs. James A. Maxwell. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Coverston. Reports of the May membership drive will be made at this meeting. Members who were not present yesterday are requested to secure three new members before the next meeting. After the business was disposed of the meeting adjourned to the social hour, during which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Holland and her daughters, Mrs. Joseph Mastropolo and Mrs. P. Grandison.

Over two hundred couples attended the first dance given by the Shifters last evening in the Winter Garden. Visitors from Ironton, Ashland, Huntington and surrounding towns were present and thoroughly enjoyed the novel features of the dance. Master Louis Russell delighted those present with a trombone solo, while little Fairbelle Mayo gave several of her clever toe dances. Members of Dave's Shifters orchestra also rendered several new and laughable stunts.

Tickets were issued yesterday for the play, "The Enchanted Princess," to be presented by a number of students of Miss Florence Young, dancing teacher, May 10th. The play is being given under the auspices of the Woman's City Club, and the proceeds will be used in purchasing shrubbery for the school yards of the city.

J. L. Marsh and Harold Clayton are in charge of the dance to be given this evening by the American Legion, for the young women who offered their services at the blue bonus applications were made and filed several months ago. The affair will be given in Legion Hall, and all who in anyway participated in the clerking work are cordially invited.

Seventeen members responded to the roll call at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Grandview Avenue Church of Christ, held at the home of Mrs. L. D. Ferguson, Eleventh street yesterday afternoon. Rev. O. H. Gast opened the meeting with a scriptural selection and following the short business session, the remainder of the time was spent socially.

The hostess served a delicious refreshment course at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Justice of Selma, Ohio was a guest for the afternoon.

The meeting of the King's Daughters and Sons, of Trinity Church, which was announced for this evening at the home of Mrs. Emil Arthur, has been postponed one week later, Friday, May 12, to be held at the same place. Members kindly take notice.

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church will hold a bake sale tomorrow at the Cut-Hate meat market. The committee in charge for the day includes: Mrs. Edward Boerle, Mrs. Hattie Russell and Mrs. W. C. Ferguson.

Miss Hattie Watersky, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Lerman, of Oakland avenue.

Conceded to have been one of the prettiest parties of the season was the bridge given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Wells A. Hutchins at her handsome home, 1816 Hutchins street. Attractive in every particular were the appointments for the game, spring flowers adorning the various rooms, while smaller bowls of roses and lilies of the valley filled every available space. Seven tables were arranged for bridge, and after a brief reception, places were found and the intricacies of bridge enjoyed until five o'clock, when a delicious salad course was beautifully served at the small tables. Mrs. Hayden Bush and Mrs. John Neundorfer were awarded handsome trophies for top scores.

Miss Ruth Thompson assisted Mrs. Hutchins in welcoming her guests and in serving the refreshment course.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Oscar W. Newman of Columbus, Mrs. C. O. Dodson, of Hammond, Indiana, and Mrs. Charles Blakemore, of Roanoke, Virginia.

Others present, included: Mrs. James W. Bannum, Jr., Mrs. H. S. Grimes, Mrs. Harry E. Taylor, Mrs. Charles S. Hall, Mrs. Hayden Bush, Mrs. John L. Neundorfer, Mrs. Evan Williams, Mrs. Heron M. Johnson, Mrs. Samuel M. Johnson, Mrs. M. H. Longfellow, Mrs. Eric Ferguson, Mrs. Russell Anderson, Mrs. Charles Higland, Mrs. Raymond White, Mrs. Joseph Peebles, Mrs. George M. Osborn, Mrs. Wilson Goldard, Mrs. J. Leigh Watkins, Mrs. Richard Traupner and Mrs. Raymond York. Misses Katherine Hall, Charlotte Bannum, Ruth Thompson and Hanna Johnson.

Of interest to friends in this city is the announcement of the marriage April 20th in Ironton, of Miss June Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Platt, and Robert Luning, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luning, 1120 Third street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Townsend, of Ironton.

Mr. Luning is the local agent for the Cincinnati Times-Star. They will start housekeeping about the first of June. Mrs. Luning has been employed in the Selby Shoe Company offices.

Mrs. Martha Newman delightfully entertained the members of the Knot-a-Way Club Thursday afternoon at her home, 1923 Grandview avenue. Her home was attractively arranged and decorated in orange blossoms and lilies. Needlework and social chat furnished diversion until 4:30 o'clock when a delicious salad course was served by Mrs. Newman, assisted by Mrs. Frank Bachman. Club members present included Mrs. Richard Boyd, Mrs. W. A. Gray, Mrs. Ben Porter, Mrs. Mildred Plinson, Mrs. Emmett Hatten, Mrs. Carl White and Mrs. J. O. Sechrist. Mrs. Frank Bachman was the only guest present.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Queen, of 3001 Walnut street, are the proud parents of a daughter, born Wednesday night. The little miss was given the name of Betty Sue. Mr. Queen is a yard conductor.

The Save Them! DIFFERENT The WHEN Store Open A Charge Account

The Chain Store IS the Greatest Cost-Reducing Method of Doing Business

OUR many stores serve many thousands of satisfied customers who come back year in and year out. WHY? Because the cooperation of many stores eliminates all waste and makes possible great savings. Beveridge's And Ralston's Friends Elated

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge defeated Senator Harry S. New by 23,472 votes in Tuesday's primary for the Republican nomination for United States senator according to complete unofficial figures from the 92 counties in Indiana as tabulated by the Associated Press here today. The vote was: Beveridge, 205,410; New, 184,568, making the total Republican vote cast, 390,978.

The complete unofficial vote of the state on the Democratic senatorial contest showed that former Governor Samuel M. Ralston easily won the nomination, having a majority over all other contestants of 79,405, according to figures compiled by the Associated Press today. Ralston's total vote was 171,552. Dr. Jess Sanders, who advocated the return of beer and light wines, was second with 34,045. The other contestants' votes were: Dan W. Shinn, 24,251;

B. B. Shively, 21,228, and Charles F. Howard, 12,228. Complete returns on the congressional contests that had been undecided gave the Democratic nomination in the seventh district, virtually the city of Indianapolis, to Joseph Turk, who ran on a wine and beer platform, and in the fifth district to Charles A. Bidamon, of Terre Haute. Turk's vote was 8,481 against 4,358 for Woodburn Mason, an avowed "dry," and Bidamon won from David Hostetter by a vote of 8,520 to 5,571, when he carried Vigo county by a majority over Hostetter of 5,774. Miss Esther Kathleen O'Keefe, the only woman congressional candidate, won the Democratic nomination in the thirteenth district, having a plurality of 2,553 with only 21 precincts missing.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the Republican nominee for United States senator in the Indiana primary election Tuesday, was the recipient to day of hundreds of congratulatory messages. Many messages came from persons identified with the progressive party in 1912, in which Mr. Beveridge was a leader. Others were from Republican party leaders.

Friends of Samuel M. Ralston, former governor, were gratified with his heavy vote for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Senator Gronna Dies At Home

LAKOTA, NORTH DAKOTA, May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Arrangements were to be completed today for the funeral of Axel J. Gronna, former United States senator from North Dakota, who died at his home here last night. Mr. Gronna returned here last week after undergoing an operation at Rochester, Minnesota. He was elected a representative in congress from North Dakota in 1904. In February, 1911, he was elected to fill a vacancy in the senate in which body he served until defeated in 1920 by E. F. Ladd.

Suspend Superintendent Of Columbus Workhouse

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Safety Director McNamee today announced the suspension of W. P. Donohoe, superintendent of the Columbus work house,

Oles Out Of The Race? Should Say Not! He Says He's In 'Cause Politicians Want Him Out

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Mayor George L. Oles, who has been considering withdrawal of his candidacy for governor of Ohio on an independent ticket, today declared he would stay in the race because "practically every selfish interest in the state was determined to cry down my candidacy, even before it became an actuality." "The politicians, large and small, want me to stay out," the mayor's following an investigation into the charges that unruly prisoners were being let out. Announcement was made that charges would be filed against Donohoe, who, it is reported, will fight the case. Acting Captain Henry Brookbeck, it was said, would be asked to resign. Director McNamee announced that he had asked Donohoe to resign or stand suspended. Friends of Donohoe say that he will not resign.

am appealing as a plain American citizen, who believes in God and man, who has made a moderate success of his own modest business and has never allowed grafters or gougers to make an experiment station of him. I pledge you I will do the same for the state of Ohio." Oles promised a detailed platform two weeks from today, choosing Friday, as usual, since he calls it his "lucky day."

A banquet was held in the Second Presbyterian church last night by the young ladies' class taught by Mrs. A. J. Franklin. This was the climax of a few weeks of activity in enlisting new members. A committee under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Haischa served a five course dinner to about forty guests. Short addresses were made by Mrs. Frank Baggs, who acted as toastmistress, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Harsha and the pastor of the church. A color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations and the tables were attractively bedecked to the members and guests as they were ushered into the dining room. These present were: Losers—Selma Yost, Eloise Hicks, Mrs. Helen Harris, Leah Jones, Edna Jacobs, Georgia Jacobs, Mrs. Louise Kuegle, Kathleen Hicks, Mildred Waller, Mrs. Hazel Denton, Mrs. Virginia Harsha, Marie Bertram, Ruth Fairtrace, Pearl Eichellberger. Winners—Mrs. Ernest P. Kelley, Mrs. Jno. R. Williams, Mrs. Vancil Alexander, Mrs. Walter Eismangle, Mrs. Earl Cropper, Mrs. Wallace Combs, Mrs. Ernest Windobrunner, Mrs. Roy Kuegelman, Mrs. Maltby Ruggles, Mrs. John Hetzel, Miss Esther Redpenning, Miss Helene Redpenning, Miss Helen Hoss, Mrs. Robert S. Paden, Mrs. Frank Baggs, Mrs. Chas. Baggs, Alma Leedom, Fannie Bennett, Carrie McCarty, Edith Trentburt. Guests—Mrs. Franklin, Miss Lois Franklin, Rev. and Mrs. Hugh J. Evans. A congenial group of friends who will motor to Columbus tomorrow, include Miss Leona Labold, Miss Alice Dover, Mrs. Joseph Teobles, Mrs. Harry E. Taylor, Mrs. Charles D. Seidner, and Mrs. William R. Sprague. The trip will be made in the Labold car. Mrs. Emily Drouillard, 850 Second street, who has been ill for the past week, with an attack of erysipelas, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Streets and Mrs. M. H. Longfellow will motor to Columbus tomorrow for a week-end visit with relatives and friends. A group of seventh grade Massie school girls have organized a club, to be known as the "Rosebuds" which will meet weekly. The first meeting was held yesterday at the home of Helen Carrington, and the following officers chosen: President, Lillian Lewis; vice president, Stella Brooks; secretary, Fay Holsinger and treasurer, Mabel Evans. Other members of the club include: Edith Purtee, Aston Portis, Irene Fletcher, Garnet Cooper and Helen Carrington. Mrs. Carroll Augusta and two children, Jack and Robert, of Sixth street, will leave today for a two weeks' visit with friends in Chillicothe and Columbus. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mabel B. Jones and Mr. James H. Potts of this city, which was solemnized in Catlettsburg, Ky., Thursday.

Court House

Green Voluntarily Appears

When Arthur Green, West Side man, indicted for rape upon one Vina Fields, last December, voluntarily appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday, he was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser offense of assault and battery after an investigation tended to show that the rape charge was unwarranted by the facts in the case.

Green was fined $10 and costs which he paid and went his way.

Mrs. Evans Sent To Jail

Mrs. Stella Evans was found to be guilty of contributing to the delinquency of Ethel Brunner, 15 year old girl, at a hearing in Probate court Friday and Judge Gilliland fined her $1 and costs and sent her to jail for a period of three months. The Brunner girl was also convicted of delinquency by reason of immoral conduct and she was ordered committed to the Girl's Industrial Home at Delaware.

The evidence disclosed that Mrs. Evans, who lived at the White Bear hotel, induced the Brunner girl, who has been staying with her uncle, Elza Stumbo, 243 Second street, to go out with her and meet men for immoral purposes.

Fined And Made Wards

At a hearing in Juvenile court Friday Clifford Curry, 14, Chester Riggs, 15 and Henry McDowell, 15,

New Boston youths, were adjudged delinquents in connection with hurling rocks at passing automobiles and Judge Gilliland besides making the lads wards of the court fined them $5 and costs each. The boys arranged to pay and were released from custody.

Train Riders Released

A half dozen prisoners, William Jones, Wiske Labor, Jack Norton, Charles Keepel, Joe Barech and John Churilla sent to jail several days ago for train riding, were released from custody Friday and told to get out of town.

Pay Up; Released

Roy Brannon and Mike Keener, Clarkburg, W. Va., young men, who were taken by county officers in a liquor raid on Easter Sunday at the home of Henry and Charles Emmons at McCullough, were released from custody Friday when relatives came to their rescue and paid the $100 fine imposed against each for possessing liquor. The Emmons brothers arranged to pay their fines several days ago and were released.

Colegrove Returned Here

Arrested at Camp Meade, Md., where he was stationed in military service, Lieutenant Arthur Colegrove, former Gephart Station young man, was returned to Portsmouth Thursday by Sheriff Ricker to meet an indictment charging him with rape. The alleged offense was committed three years ago and the complainant, a young girl named Baer, who was then but fourteen years old, it is claimed.

Following his arrest the accused readily agreed to return to Ohio and he will appear before Judge Thomas Saturday morning to enter his plea. Colegrove was endeavoring to secure his release Friday by giving the $500 bond fixed by the court.

Sheriff Ricker had a fine trip, stopping off at Washington where he met a number of Portsmouth people, and calling at the White House was introduced to President Harding by Secretary Charles E. Hard of this city. The sheriff also visited Mount Vernon, the burial place of President Washington and other places of interest about the National capital.

Adams Seeks Divorce

Alleging neglect and cruelty and declaring that while they were living temporarily in Savannah, Ga., in August, 1920, she abandoned him for the association of other men, William Q. Adams seeks a divorce from Rebecca B. Adams, whom he married in St. Louis, Mo., in February, 1912, in an action filed in Common Pleas court Friday.

Through Attorney Horace L. Small the plaintiff complains that for several months prior to her desertion he had continually remonstrated with her about her associates and claims that she refused to accompany him when he was compelled to leave Savannah for business reasons. He says the wife subsequently changed her residence to New Orleans where she is now living at 843 Magazine street. In addition to a divorce Adams asks that the wife be divested of all interest in his property.

Wants Wife To Come Back

For answer and cross petition to the divorce and alimony suit of Mar-aret Hanson, New Boston, Charles Hanson, 202 Second street, denies her charges and through Attorney Black and Blair says he has never abandoned or refused to support the wife of their child and declares he is now ready, able and willing to live with and support them and perform his marital duties as a husband and father. He further complains that the wife insists on living with her parents and refuses to go with him and make a home with him.

The defendant asks that her petition be dismissed and that he be given the custody of their child if she still refuses to live with him. Judge Thomas entered an order Friday requiring Hanson to pay his wife $5 a week as temporary alimony until the case can be heard on its merits.

Stricken From Docket

A number of divorce cases were stricken from the Common Pleas court civil docket, by Judge Thomas Friday for lack of prosecution. The following were the cases ordered dismissed: Edith Gillen vs. Carl Gillen; Ida-bel Jacobs vs. Warren M. Jacobs; Edna Mae Aldred vs. Roscoe Aldred; Carrie Plymouth vs. Floyd Plymouth; Bertha Neal vs. James C. Neal; Bes-sie Franck vs. Adam Franck.

Approved Distribution

Judge James S. Thomas in Common Pleas court Thursday approved and confirmed the distribution of property in the case of William M. Briggs against Margaret Osborne et al.

Saw Jackson Win

Promoter Tod Cropper, Leo Hor-now and Wm. Atlas, of Gallia street, are home from Washington, D. C., where they saw Tut Jackson knock out Jack Geyer of Columbus. They say Jackson is a real fighter and boxer and is sure to win from Knockout Eggers when they clash here Monday night.

Dismissed In Court

John Davis and his wife, Ida Davis, arrested by the police early Wednesday for investigation in connection with the theft of an automobile tire from the machine of Carl Schneider, were finally dismissed Friday because the lack of direct evidence to show they were the persons who took the tire which was found abandoned in an alley.

Bake Sale Tomorrow

Group 11 of Trinity Ladies Aid Society will hold a bake sale on the upper market square tomorrow afternoon. All kinds of baked goods will be for sale.

Too Much Tanglefoot

Dave Clapper, who indulged in too much "tanglefoot" and felt by the wayside and into the hands of the police Thursday, pleaded guilty to intoxication Friday when he appeared in Municipal court. He was handed the usual fine of $11.20.

Charge Withdrawn

Guy Long was the name of a man arrested by the police Thursday night on a warrant sworn out by M. E. White for alleged assault and battery, but when the case was called for trial Friday Judge McCall was advised that the charge had been withdrawn by the complainant.

CHAIN STORE CO.

MAY BUILD HERE

According to an announcement made Thursday by W. J. Burgess, special representative, who is in the city for a few days, the L. R. Steel Service Corporation of Buffalo, N. Y., is planning to establish a chain store here.

Mr. Burgess' mission here at present is to check out J. A. Sollitt, former manager of the local office, who has been transferred to the Cincinnati office of the concern and to install C. H. Campbell of Middletown, as the new local manager.

Mr. Sollitt opened the local office of the L. R. Steel company in this city last September and has had unusual success, not only having built up a fine clientele for the company, but turning over to his successor a splendid corps of salesmen. The change to the Cincinnati office is in the nature of a well deserved promotion. Mr. Campbell comes to Portsmouth most highly recommended.

The Steel stores handle everything from 5 cents up to a $10 limit, and at present have 74 stores and 104 service offices over the country. A site for the store here has not yet been selected. Mr. Burgess states, however, that the building will likely be of four stories and 60x120 feet in dimensions.

Laying Face Brick

The Danis-Hunt Construction Co. is laying face brick on the new addition being added to the High School building.

Adjudged Delinquents

May Jenkins, 13, of Sixteenth street, and Alma Rose, 14, of Robinson avenue, were adjudged delinquents at a hearing in Juvenile court Friday afternoon and Judge Gilliland ordered them committed to the Girl's Industrial Home at Delaware, for misconduct, while two younger sisters of the Jenkins girl, Louise and Leona, and nine boys, Oran Snyder, Thomas Arthur, Oscar Covert, George Roush, Francis Russell, Charles Bliss, Lawrence Bond, Arthur Campbell and Harry Catell, all of the North End, were given a scoring and made wards of the court.

To Attend Meeting

Architect Albert Pretzinger of Dayton, will be present at the meeting of the school board tonight. He drew the plans for the addition to the High School and Lincoln school building.

Announce Building Plans

Young and Young, local real estate dealers and managers of the Peoples Finance Company announce that they have made arrangements with the Equitable Life Assurance Company of the United States, to have five hundred thousand dollars from that concern to loan for building and home buying purposes in Portsmouth.

Arthur Young returned yesterday from Dayton, where he attended a convention of the Equitable Company and consummated the deal. He was accompanied by Carey Williams and Leroy Compton.

Leaves For Toronto

Howard Jones, 1513 Sixth street, left Thursday for Toronto, Ohio, where he has secured employment.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Ellis of Dock Run Pike, West Side.

A daughter was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Donawitz, who live near Yandeburg and are well known here.

Mother Denies Report

Mrs. Ada Stumper of Grace street Friday denied that her son Edgar had ever thrown a rock at any machine passing through New Boston. Stumper's name appeared with a list of names of youth accused of hurling rocks at passing automobiles in New Boston.

Ends Saturday Night

It was announced Friday that the Music Memory Contest, which has been carried on in the city for several weeks would be brought to a close in the public library at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Police News

A row staged by Fred Lindaman and his wife, Nanner Lindaman near their home, Tenth and Gay streets, Thursday night, explained their presence in Municipal court Friday to answer disorderly conduct charges.

The wife complained that Lindaman persisted in foxing her and threatened to lock her out of their home if she failed to return by nine o'clock. They accused each other of abuse and calling of vile names and after hearing their stories Judge McCall continued the case and advised the couple to seek the divorce court if they can't get along in peace.

Children's Program At The High School Auditorium

The observance of Children's Week which has held the attention of quite a large number of parents and children this week, will practically come to a close at the High School Auditorium tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, beginning promptly at 2:30, when a splendid and carefully planned program will be rendered. The children who are to take part in this program have been carefully instructed, and there is no question but those who attend will be well entertained. The general public is cordially invited to be present, especially the parents of the child-life. The program will furnish them with food for thought concerning the religious education of the lives of their children—how it will enable them to blossom forth in manhood and womanhood strong of character and full of high resolves and purposes. Don't fail to come if you are at all interested in the welfare of the children. The program will be as follows:

Song, "Jesus Wants Me For a Sunbeam"—All schools.
Prayer by President of County S. S. Work—Mr. W. W. Gatch.
Song, Primary Department First Evangelical School.
Reading—Junior Boy from Hutchins Avenue Baptist church.

"WHEN I HIT 'EM I KNOCK THEM IN THE FIFTH ROW", EGGERS WIRES; HE WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

Will Box Any Heavyweight Here And Is Looking For Two Husky Young Heavies

Knockout Eggars, who will meet "Tut" Jackson in a ten round bout in the Auditorium Monday night, will arrive here Saturday and will top off his training here.

"Tut" Jackson is expected to arrive Sunday and may give several boxing exhibitions before climbing into a local ring.

"Get me two big sparring partners for Saturday afternoon. I don't care if they weigh a ton."

The above wire was received yesterday by Promoter Tod Cropper from Eggars. Evidently he means business as he says when he hits a big fellow he usually knocks him into the fifth row. Carry the news to Jackson.

BUCKEYES TO PLAY SUNDAY

The Buckeyes, the fast colored nine representing the North End, have organized and will play their first game Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the sixteenth street diamond. The Buckeyes present a well balanced lineup and are ready to meet all comers. The team is piloted by Manager Carver.

The Buckeyes will use Mason, cf; Spaulding, rf; Hollingsworth, c; Kinney, 1b; Coverston, 2b; Orton, 3b; Roberts, lf; Nichols, ss; and Saunders and Vinson, p.

Sunday, their first opponents will be the East End Stars.

The East End Stars will use Hornung, ss; Clausen, 3b; Ray, lf; Davis, 2b; Gehres, rf; Worthington, 1b; Tibbs, cf; Smith, c; Lewis or Sisson, p.

Blair Is Training Faithfully

Nig Blair is training faithfully for his eight round go with Waldo Patterson of Columbus next Monday night. He is doing some strenuous road work, punches the back daily, jogs over all corners and is developing into a real shadow boxer. He is doing this to increase his speed as Patterson is said to be a fast and Blair is anxious to beat him to the punch. Fans are going to see an improved boxer when Blair climbs into the ring.

Ironton Fans Comi ng For Boxing Show

Pete Burke, clever sport slogger of the Ironton Register, will head a delegation of fistie fans from Ironton, who will take in the Jackson-Eggars bout in the Auditorium next Monday night.

From present indications several hundred out of town fans will witness this all-star boxing show.

Jackson Wins In Sixth Round

WASHINGTON C. H. O. May 5.—"Tut" Jackson, local negro heavyweight, knocked out Jack Geyer of Columbus in the sixth round of their scheduled fifteen round bout here last night. Apparently attempting only to protect himself in the first three rounds, Jackson opened in the fourth and in the sixth ended the bout with a right and left to the jaw which carried Geyer half way across the ring.

In a semi-final, Ralph Garner, Washington C. H. negro heavy weight, fought a ten round draw with Young Sam Langford, of Syracuse, N. Y.

Carpentier And Dempsey May Clash

PARIS, May 5.—(By A. P.)—Jack Dempsey told the Associated Press today it was almost certain he would meet Georges Carpentier again in London or Paris late this year if Carpentier defeats Ted Lewis in London, May 11, and provided the result is satisfactory.

To Settle Argument

Eight fans are indulging in much speculation as to which is the better boxer, Jack Major or Dutch Semett. Will they clash in the Auditorium next Monday night and no doubt they will answer this question with their feet flying loose. Major is a real boxer and is going to be hard to stop.

First Game Saturday

The North Moreland Stars will play their first game of the season Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. They will meet the Rosemont Road Stars on the Rosemont diamond.

The North Moreland nine will use Rhodes in the box and Davis as pitcher.

The winner of the first game will play the New Boston Specials in the second game. Should the North Moreland nine win, they will use Logan on the mound with Davis doing the relieving.

Juniors Take Big Lead In Track Meet

In the first half of the final P. H. S. interclass track meet held at York park Thursday afternoon the Juniors took a big lead with making 49 points. The Sophomores are second with 17 points and the Freshmen third with 9 points, while the Seniors did not enter among the winners.

The latter was up to his old tricks last night when he knocked out Jack Geyer in six rounds in their ten round go in Washington C. H. Jackson did not warm up until the fourth round and from then on it was just a question of how long Geyer was going to last.

Indications are that next Monday night's boxing show here will attract a record crowd. The seat sale is very gratifying.

Promoter Cropper was in Washington C. H. last night and saw Jackson win.

NATIONAL A WIERD GAME

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—St. Louis staged a ninth inning rally and overcame a four run lead, and defeated Cincinnati 8 to 7. The visitors had been trailing up to the ninth when they scored six runs. The Cardinals came back in their half and piled up five tallies with only one man out. Stock and Bohne were ordered off the field for disputing a decision. Score:

BETTY ANN INN OPENS SATURDAY

With everything looking spic and span and the rooms handsomely redecorated the Betty Ann Inn (Blue Moon) will reopen Saturday at noon by its new owner, Mrs. Ella Regg. She is recognized as one of the best caterers in the city and is sure to enjoy splendid patronage. She has equipped two dining rooms, one which is private and may be rented for parties.

Mrs. Regg will devote all of her time to her new business and is confident that she will retain all the old patrons of the place and add many new ones as quick service and moderate prices will be her motto. She will be assisted by Miss Alice Blue.

Contractor Edward Brehmer has just completed his contract of redecorating the restaurant.

To Enjoy Outing

L. E. Covert will take his class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school on a camping and fishing trip Saturday. They will go to Otway.

Work It Started

Work has been started on the new shine parlor James Nick will soon open in the lower half of the Senate Cafe on Chillicothe street.

WHEN GOVERNMENT COMPETES
 THE United States shipping board is engaged in a passenger rate war with a British steamship company for control of South American business. As a result fares have been reduced to the lowest point touched since the war and the rates are declared to be unremunerative. Prospects are they will go lower before the opposing concerns come to an agreement and raise them, probably to a higher level than is warranted by competitive conditions.

That an understanding will be come to is certain because the British company is not capable of "bucking" the United States government indefinitely. It will have to get out of the race or be forced to the wall if it will not make terms. And when terms are made the shipping board will be a party to a "combine" morally indefensible if we are not to abandon the position that has been taken against combinations in restraint of trade.

The British argue that they are entitled to charge lower rates than the American company because their ships are inferior to those of the shipping board operated privately under the American flag but controlled by the government agency. They say they aim merely to secure a legitimate differential, but Chairman Lasker of the shipping board who has authorized successive cuts in American rates to beat the British denies their right to this. For the public there would be small interest in the controversy and competition were it not that losses sustained in operating the American vessels must be made up out of taxation. Each time a cut is made there is an added drain on the public purse. In the end, of course, rates will be stabilized. Presumably they will be put on a basis that will compel the traveling public to pay the cost of service rendered and permit a profit, which is as it should be.

But if the government may engage in cut-throat competition should managers of private enterprises be condemned for doing likewise? It will seem to most Americans that the principle involved in this rate war should apply to the American business equally.

POOR OLD SHAKESPEARE!
 VETERAN survivors of the lovers of the legitimate drama who have been deploring the failure of the Bard of Avon's plays to draw modern audiences have another shock in store. The patronage of the three months' summer Shakespearean season at the Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, has diminished so much that even the desperate expedient of using the memorial stage for movies during the other nine months has failed to provide enough funds for these birth-place performances.

Is the greatest dramatist of the English language to cease to be seen on the boards and to become known only by lovers of literature? Did it seem too stilted, too unreal for present day life? Yet the substitution of Cohanese for Sophoclesque might not be the exact remedy. Perhaps it is the ultra-modern distaste for "old stuff"—simply that and nothing more.

BAN ON FALSE TRADE NAMES
 THE decision of the United States supreme court sustaining the order of the federal trade commission to a hosiery company to desist from applying misleading names to its products is a victory for honest dealing. If the fundamental principle of the case is widely applied it will benefit both consumers and vendors.

The concern in question has been engaged for some years in the manufacture of underwear. Its products have been labeled "natural merino," "gray wool," "natural wool," "natural worsted" or "Australian wool," while as a matter of fact none of it has been all-wool and much of it contained only a small portion of wool some as little as 10 per cent. The federal trade commission found that the practice constituted unfair competition and ordered it stopped, whereupon the company took the case to the supreme court on the ground that the commission had no right to interfere with its trade names.

It is manifest that a company which does not hesitate to deceive the public by giving the latter to understand through misleading trade names for its products that they are of better quality than is actually the case as an unfair advantage over more scrupulous concerns which will not lend themselves to such deception. The corporation which palms off cotton as wool can undersell the competitor which offers real wool. Of course if the public detects the fraud the company guilty of it may have a hard time, for it will be under suspicion even if it amends its ways.

There are some trade-names which, though originally misleading, and probably intended to deceive, no longer do so. People are aware that certain furs bearing the names of highly prized animals never were found on the back of these particular creatures but came from other animals. Even in these cases it would be better if honesty were to prevail and the trade names at present used abandoned in favor of accurate ones.

SAYING THE KIND WORD
 A gracious word to the living is better than a grave-stone to the dead.

And how true that old saying is; how true it is that a gracious word now will smooth out the wrinkles and make easier the path.

For every gracious word uttered the bestower receives, in some mysterious way, an abundance of good things in return, according to oft-repeated statement.

And how much better it is, after all, to say the gracious word to the living instead of waiting until death and then putting it on the tombstone.

Sir Conan Doyle declares that he proposes to "make a raid on American skepticism." If that's all, we get off lightly, for of the muchly-super-over-abundance of American skepticism there is a considerably gigantic surplus.

George Bernard Shaw cables that Jack Dempsey's visit will be one of peace. If Jack hadn't been assured of that he would not have gone.

People who have opinions on this or the other are urged not to write to their congressmen. The poor fellow is muddled enough already.

Woodrow Wilson, says a Washington item, remains locked inside his S. street fastness. But he writes a letter occasionally.

The cost of living is reported down 22 per cent. in New York. It's always somewhere else.

Even when borrowing trouble many a man acquires twice as much as he needs.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

IN THE WILDERNESS

THE Israelites were safe on the other side of the Red Sea, and sang a song of praise to the Lord. Moses brought them into the wilderness and for three days they were without water. When found, it was too bitter to drink. Moses prayed and God showed him a tree which, when cast into the water, made the water sweet. When they came to the desert of Sin they were angry and wished they had not left Egypt, where they had plenty of food. God heard their complaints and sent them great numbers of quails to eat.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 5—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Window boxes abound with jasmies and honeysuckle. Necks craved. To watch a bare-headed man. Boardman Robinson has grown a beard. All the women freighted with heavy jade and amber beads. There's a stunner. Copper colored hair and luminous orbs. And spoiling the effect by chewing gum.

Dark haired musicians. Ties wrapped three around collars like royal piers. And on their way to syncope in jazz halls. Another Russian inn. Designed in exotic colors. The first Panama suit. Gowns with triumphant French labels—made in Hester street. Salted nut stores everywhere. Everything to raise a thirst.

Three playwrights in a block—Zoe Akins, Owen Davis and Avery Hopwood. A cart full of trained seals. Lip rouge now sold in flavors. Roof gardens being preened. Times Square full of advertising kites. County fair affect. Sad faced puppy peddlers. Wish I could buy them all.

Children from an orphanage gazing at the hatter cake jugglers. Like eye clapped on Paradise. Subway track walkers coming out for a whiff of clean air. A purple chariot drawn by milk white stallions—just to advertise perfume. Harlequin Manners and Laurette Taylor watching a window demonstrator.

There's a sign for you—"Silk Tights Marked Down." The noon hotel lobby gatherings. Debutantes and blowsy sirens. Crooks and gentlemen. Foolish old faces above winged collars. Empty headed cake-eaters. Shriill chatter and fol-de-rol. An old flower woman looks in, hesitates—and then goes on. And here's my town car—a Broadway surface.

Gipsyland, away over on Avenue A, is one of the new dawn hideaways for Broadway pleasure seekers. It is conducted by a fighter in one of the Fifth Avenue restaurants and he has skillfully guided the midnight sons and daughter to the new lair. It is a Hungarian cafe and during the day it is patronized by neighboring Hungarians but after 1 o'clock it is taken over by Broadway high-flyers. The orchestra plays wild carousals on cymbals. The breakfast plate is scrambled eggs with kalbas, the latter a kind of highly seasoned sausage.

The Friars gave a dinner to Tommy Gray last week to celebrate his return from the horrors of Hollywood. Tommy is the official Broadway wit. His bon mots are as widely known as Broadway as Irvin Cobb's stories are at banquet boards. Tommy makes a living furnishing wise-cracks to comedians, monologue artists and musical comedies. He has written several plays but he finds it more profitable to spread his talents over a dozen or so productions rather than giving so much to one. There are comedians who will pay $200 for a sure fire laugh. Tommy is said to have made as high as $3,000 in one week furnishing this sort of material. He has offices and goes to work every morning at a certain hour and remains on the job until late afternoon. In the evening he roams the theatrical belt for a chance to pep-up some weak spot in current theatricals. He is 32 years old.

Youth is occupying high literary posts in New York these days. Burton Rascoe, just past 20, has been made book reviewer of the New York Tribune. John V. A. Weaver, the 21 year old poet, is now the rage among the lovers of poetry. The Bookman—one of the most scholarly of periodicals—is edited by John Farrar, who is also in his early twenties. F. Scott Fitzgerald is author of one of the most recent best sellers. He is only 25.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

The Crow
 With rakish eye and plumed crop,
 Oblivious to the farmer's gun,
 Upon the naked ash tree top
 The Crow sits basking in the sun.

An old, ungodly rogue, I wot!
 For perched in black against the blue,
 His feathers, torn with beak and shot,
 Let awful tints of April through.

The year's new grass, and golden-eyed,
 The daisies sparkle underneath,
 And Chestnut trees on either side
 Have opened every ruddy sheath.

But doubtful still of frost and snow,
 The ash alone stands stark and bare,
 And on its topmost twig the Crow
 Takes the glad morning's sun and air.

—William Canton.

His First Bagpipe
 A little London boy who was visiting Scotland for the first time. One afternoon he suddenly left the hotel window in great excitement as a Highlander came down the road playing the bagpipe.

"Mother, mother!" cried the little boy. "Come quick! There's a man outside with a dead pig that sings."

Worthy Ancestry

"Reggie is so proud of his ancestors."
 "Well, he ought to be. They're the only ones in his family who ever did anything worth while."
 —Boston Transcript

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will dispense with the formality of removing your gloves when shaking hands with a man friend. However, it is a nice courtesy to remove them when shaking hands with one of your own sex who is noticeably older than yourself.
 You will not remove your gloves during a formal call, even for bidding your hostess farewell.
 You will not wear the cuffs of your glove turned back over your hand.

The Martin

Things have just about reached the point when there's no tellin' where the feller who steps out on business 'll end up. Life 'tnd has got so he kin drink or keep his $14.

 Mrs. Bluff: Why is little Billy crying?
 Mr. Bluff: Well, he nearly swallowed my cuff links so I gave him a couple of cuffs.

Firm Faith
 "Doc, I have a bad ankle."
 "I'll give you something to rub it with. But if you drink the stuff it will make you sick."
 "Well, Doc, I have confidence in your ability to pull me through any illness."—From Judge.
